MISS GISH WINS SUIT

Duell is Held for Perjury

Judge Cites Complainant to Bar Association for Disbarment

Jurat Says Film Actress is Victim of Flagrant Breach of Trust

NEW YORK, April 2.—The Miss Gish trial ended this forenoon with a dramatic dismissal by Federal Judge Mack, who ordered Mr. Duell held for perjury and advised him to the bar association for disbarment.

Miss Gish, thus automatically freed from the contract to which Mr. Duell was trying to hold her until 1929, is now free to accept any of the numerous offers that have been pouring in upon her for weeks. Besides an agreement has been made by which she is to be repaid $120,000 by Mr.
Duell's former producing company.

The trial ended suddenly immediately after court was convened at 10:30 today. Judge Mack ruled so much into a few rapid spoken sentences that the specta-tators, who filled every seat, were bewildered. But not the littles for their lawyers.

The agreement to end the trial had been made last night between Col. Holland Duell, brother of the producer, and Judge Mack, and was of it had been communicated to Max D. Steuer, trial attorney for Miss Gish and the actress herself.

TENSE ATMOSPHERE
The atmosphere was electric when court opened. Mr. Duell and his lawyer were among the first in the court and took their customary seats before the bar. At that side was Walter Camp, Jr., who was a partner in the production with Mr. Duell. Mr.
Camp, incidentally, was freed of suspicion by the court.

Apparently Mr. Duell was uninformed of what was exactly to happen as he visibly recoiled when

CLEMENTEL RESIGNS POST AFTER TILT WITH HERRIOT

Minister of Finance Precipitates Government Crisis in France; Paper Money Vital Issue

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PARIS, April 3.—Etienne Clementel, Minister of Finance, resigned last night following an uproar precipitated in the Senate by his proposal to add 6,000,000,000 paper francs to the money circulation of the country and at 2 o'clock this morning
Premier Herriot's Cabinet was in session discussing the crisis.

The Cabinet sat until 4:30 when it was announced that Senator Avatate De Monzie had accepted the post of Finance Minister.
M. Clementel, at the afternoon session of the Senate explained the serious financial condition of the country and announced the government's intention of issuing 6,000,000,000 paper francs to meet a serious shortage of paper currency.

He attempted to show that the issue was not inflation, pointing out that it was merely for business use, that it was guaranteed by commercial paper and that it did not affect the gold guarantee behind the present paper. At this point the Senate was thrown into an uproar and cries of "resign" came from the opposition benches.

HERRIOT INTO BREACH
Premier Herriot, appearing tired and overworked, here stepped into the breach and attempted to reassure the opposition, which was violently opposed to inflation. He hinted at a proposed levy on capital and at the same time mentioned payments coming to France under the Dawes plan, but the opposition Senators refused to be appeased and interrupted him with cries of "resign."

M. Herriot was then forced to call the Cabinet meeting which is still in session. The first intimation that M. Clementel was resigning came when it was noticed that he was not present.
Before M. Clementel made his speech this afternoon, the opposition Senators bitterly assailed M.
Herriot's financial policies. Senator Jose stated that French credit in Germany was menaced by the promise to evacuate the Ruhr, while French claims in Russia today were $4,000,000, were compromised by the recognition of the Bolshevik government.
M. Jose expressed regret that

DEBT NOTES ARE URGED Delay by France
Irks Congress

WASHINGTON, April 2.—
France's continued delay in proposing a funding of her war debt has led to a revival of agitation here for some affirmative step by the United States designed to happen a settlement.

The statement in Paris today of Finance Minister Clementel that "we are on the road to a satisfactory arrangement" of the French war debt to the United States was viewed in official circles as a satisfying expression. So far as those in touch with diplomatic exchanges are aware, no formal informal conversations are in progress with France at this time in regard to a debt funding agreement.
Some of those who have declined with administration officials on the subject believe a formal note soon may be sent to all the debtor nations asking each to submit a funding plan.

FOR DEFINITE MOVE
Nevertheless there have been unmistakable evidences of impatience in the United States. Increasing pressure has been brought to bear by influential members of Congress favoring a definite move by the American government.

That suggestion was discussed some time ago by the Debt Funding Commission but abandoned.
Since then officials have declined to discuss the situation in detail, or forecast how long their waiting policy will be continued.

It is felt in some official quarters, at least, that the French proposals of an intention to pay should be put into tangible form.
Those who hold to this view feel that if the official posture of the French government is what is described to be in the utterances of French statesmen, there should be no hesitation in committing that view to paper.

Just what impression these arguments may have had on President Coolidge is not apparent and White House officials would add nothing today to the President's previous utterances in which he has indicated a firm conviction that France and the other debtors should pay their debts as soon as they are able.

Secretary Sanders when asked about a report current in other quarters that a note of warning soon will be sent abroad replying that he was totally ignorant of any such plan and had no new information about the foreign debt situation.

State Department officials in the absence of Secretary Kellogg, likewise were silent, while at the Treasury officials declined to go further than to say that the Debt Commission had thus far taken no action.

FINANCIAL MISSION IS PLANNED BY FRANCE
(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
LONDON, April 2.—The London Times Paris correspondent understands the French government is preparing to send a new financial mission to the United States to discuss the French debt to that country with the Treasury Department in Washington.

M. Parnmentier, who is in full possession of all the facts, may be going on private business to the United States, and in that case he will be asked to become head of the new financial mission.

PERU DEMANDS FAIR PLAY LINDSEY'S ELECTION DOUBTFUL

Memorial to President Coolidge on Tacna-Arica Award Seeks Election Safeguards

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The expected Peruvian communication relating to the Tacna-Arica arbitration award by President Coolidge was delivered late today at the State Department. No statement was forthcoming either at the department or the Peruvian Embassy as to its contents except the admission that it had to do with the award.
From other sources it was learned that the communication, which is in the form of a memorial addressed to the arbitrator, makes several requests looking to greater protection and extension of the rights of Peruvian nationals to vote in the plebiscite which is to determine sovereignty of the two provinces under the award.
A duplicate copy of the memorial was provided for transmission to the Chilean government and it is understood to be at least intimated in the communication that unless these additional safeguards are provided the Peruvian government would find it difficult, if not impossible, to participate in the plebiscite.

AMERICAN TROOPS
Among the steps the President is asked to take is the replacement of Chilean military and police authorities in Tacna and Arica by American troops or marines. Should this action be undesirable to the American government, however, the way is left open for establishment of a native constabulary in the two provinces to supplant the Chilean troops and police forces.

Another point taken up is the question of the right of Peruvian not now resident in the two territories to cast their ballots in the plebiscite. The award makes only provision for the right of Peruvian nationals to vote in the plebiscite.
A third request for amplification of the plebiscite conditions fixed by the arbitrator deals with a stipulation which excludes from voting all persons found guilty of criminal offenses. The Peruvian memorial is understood to argue that a number of Peruvian nationals, residents in the territories have been convicted from time to time during the period of Chilean occupation on trumped-up criminal charges and on their conviction many of these are said to have been expelled, or this ground request is made that natural be granted under circumstances that will insure fair verdicts to such Peruvians as fall within the classification for which the memorial pleads.

COURTEOUS LANGUAGE
The communication is said by those familiar with its text to be drawn in courteous language and aimed at his legal head.

SENATE ORDERS Investigation of

SACRAMENTO, April 2.—Investigation by the Senate Agricultural Committee of the suitability of the Westwood-Beverly Hills site for University of California, Southern Branch, was authorized by the Senate today.

While the resolution introduced by Senator Hollister, Gaviota, was not debated, it was said that objection to the Beverly Hills location has been raised on the ground that the land available is not of sufficient area or character to make possible agricultural instruction.

MISS FRANCES HUNT BEESON,
teacher and director of the pageant, ran after her and beat out the flames with her bare hands.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—A holocaust possibly was averted tonight on the stage at the high school auditorium when a woman schoolteacher and four high school boys beat out the flames at enveloped the paper costumes of four children, among approximately 400 massed on the stage in a pageant being presented.

Adding to the danger was the fact that the lights in the auditorium had gone out. The four children, however, were only slightly injured and no one was hurt in the panic that reigned in the auditorium packed by approximately 300 persons, many of them parents of the periled children on the stage.

Virginia Trickey, 8 years of age,
was the most seriously burned.
Her paper costume, representing a snowball, caught fire when some unidentified person struck a match after the lights went out. She ran from the stage, setting fire to similar costumes worn by Alberta
Sanford, Evelyn Fairley and Mary Read.

Miss Frances Hunt Beeson,
teacher and director of the pageant, ran after her and beat
out the flames with her bare hands.

COLORADO PACT KILLED AS FINNEY PLAN IS ADOPTED

Senate Action is Johnson-McCabe Victory in Drive to Put Swing
Bill Through in Congress

(BY KYLE D. PALMER
"Times" Staff Correspondent
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH])

SACRAMENTO, April 2.—The California Senate today approved the six-State Colorado River compact with the Assembly reservations withholding California's participation in the pact until Congress authorizes construction of a dam in Boulder Canyon. The vote was 29 to 11.

According to all available expert testimony this action nullifies not only the six-State pact, but ab-rogates the unconditional ratification by California two years ago of the seven-State pact. Senate approval of conditional ratification was obtained over the earnest protest of those qualified to speak on the subject.

It was a victory for the Johnson-McCabe machine, for under orders from their chief Senator Johnson's political strong-arm squad, led by "Boss" Al McCabe himself, engineered the result.

POLITICAL FOOTBALL
McCabe has been in Sacramento several days seeking to influence votes on the Colorado compact.
Through his intervention the entire Colorado problem was diverted in large measure of its economic significance and became a political wrangle with Senator Johnson's personal political interests advanced as the chief consideration.

The purpose of McCabe and other Johnson machine lobbyists has been to lay a foundation for reviving the Swing-Johnson bill now in Congress committee. Likewise it has been the desire of Senator Johnson and his representatives to strike a blow at the prestige of Secretary of Commerce Hoover, originator of the condition for the proposal, the greatest conservation project in the Southwest has, for a time at least, been destroyed.

Against the arguments of those favoring conditional ratification was arrayed the considered testimony of Atty.-Gen. Webb, State Engineer McClure, Secretary Houser, Dr. Elwood Mead, Commissioner of the Bureau of Reclamation, F. C. Corry, engineer in charge of the work of closing the break in the Colorado in 1908; Dr. W. H.
Walker, first vice-president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, and others familiar with the problem, including the governors of Wyoming, Utah, Nevada and Colorado.

HELD NEW PROPOSAL
Atty.-Gen. Webb, in a written opinion submitted to the Senate, summarized the contention of the antirratification group in the concluding paragraphs of his statement. He said:

"You will note in the language quoted from the opinion of the provision that the compact shall be obligatory on the State of California or any former approval thereof until the occurrence of the contingencies therein specified, and this provision in its practical effect amounts to a rescission of the ratification of the compact in its entirety made by the Legislature of the State in 1922.

"Finally, I may properly state to you that it is my view that the adoption of Assembly joint resolution No. 15 will constitute the submission by the Legislature of the State of California to the United States of a new and different proposal."

Warning the Senators that conditional ratification of a pact already unconditionally ratified by

Pacific Mail Officials Decide to Take Action Today

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, April 2.—The Pacific Mail Steamship Company will move tomorrow in an effort to prevent consummation of the sale of the five "President" type combination cargo-passenger ships to Stanley Dol-

Just what form the action of the Pacific Mail will take could not be learned tonight, but it was known that a decision had been reached as the result of two days' conferences of Gale Carter, presi-

George E. Chamberlain, former United States Senator from Ore-

"We will be through tomorwhether there were any develop-

Court action may be resorted

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—The "Dance Macabre" with which 17-year-old Dorothy Ellington whiled away the night after she had shot her mother, last January 13, was detailed in Superior Court here this afternoon by Katherine Mossman, testifying at the sanity hearing.

DEFENSE BUILDS CASE

The defense built up today most of the preliminary testimony on which it will base questions to witnesses, expected to testify tomorrow. During the day the defense, using witnesses whom the prosecution had called for the interrupted murder trial, established a chain of circumstances indicating that the girl had killed her mother, as charged. Furthermore, her signed confession to the police was placed in evidence. Defense counsel explained to the court that this was part of the evidence of the defendant's insanity.

FATHER TESTIFIES

He asked her whom she meant, and she said, "Jimmy La Mare, a hophhead. He killed my mother. He added that when he sent men to an address she named and they failed to find "Jimmy," she confessed that it was she who killed her mother.

'SPEED TRAP' IS LOST IN SENATE

Hot Debate Features Attempt to Pass Amendment

Senators Harris and Dennett Ask Hidden "Cops"

Senator Breed Leads Fight in Motorists' Behalf

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

SACRAMENTO, April 2.—Although the Senate did not reach a vote on the bill itself, the Breed Motor Vehicle Act was discussed late today, and an amendment which would have restored the legality of the speed trap, was defeated by two votes.

Senator Harris, of Fresno, supported by Senator Dennett, Modesto, made a determined effort to amend the bill so that traffic officers could convict fast drivers on evidence obtained while the officers were in hiding. The Fresno Senator invited the newspapers to print the roll call on the amendment, labeling those who voted against it as protectors of criminals.

The skirmish developed unexpectedly and caused something of a furor in the upper chamber. A roll of the House was invoked. For twenty minutes, lobbying for and against the amendment was indulged in with the result that five Senators who had voted with Senator Harris changed their votes.

Senator Breed opposed the restoration of the speed trap saying that even the peace officers of the State did not want it put back into the law as it was prior to 1923. He said that the speed trap was abolished at the last legislative session when abuses of it became known and it was learned that one small city had collected $15,000 in fines by trapping motorists.

Senate Bill, No. 595, amending the Vehicle Act, passed without change as it came from the Motor Vehicle Committee several weeks ago. The changes in the present law are slight. One new section provides that no operator or chauffeur's license shall be issued to any applicant who has previously been adjudged insane or an idiot, imbecile, epileptic or feeble-minded, and who has not at the time of application, been restored to competency and declared sane by judicial decree.

Another section precludes the granting to persons who are crippled in such a way as to render them incapable of driving a car with safety to other drivers. Any cripple, however, has the right by demonstration to prove his ability to drive.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION TO HELP SPEND LICENSE MONEY

SACRAMENTO, April 2.—By a viva voce vote the State Senate today adopted a resolution by Senator Nelson requesting the members of the State Highway Commission to appear before the Committee on Revenue and Taxation next Monday night to give financial data that could be used in allocating the money to be raised for highway construction in the next two years under the proposed gasoline tax and motor vehicle license tax increase. The resolution is the aftermath of the commission's action in sending a communication to the Senate in reply to a resolution requesting financial information, declaring that the information was not at hand and stating that the commission is opposed to allocating of funds in the Breed gas tax bill.

In the event the highway officials fail to appear before the committee that the secretary of the Senate be authorized to issue subpoenas to compel their attendance.

Missing Student Loth to Desert Dishwasher Job

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

PORTLAND (Or.) April 2.—Wilfred R. Hunkins of Fresno, Cal., 22 years of age, Stanford University student, who was found at a hotel here last night after a search of more than a week, insisted today, before leaving for Palo Alto with his father, on finding a dishwasher to take his place where he had been working at an eating house here. He said he would not desert the place until a substitute could be found.

Hunkins was located as a result of a telegram he had sent, and a watch he had pawned. He had been living here since his disappearance. March 22, under the name of Henry Mason.

"They sent me out to make bookings for the glee club," Hunkins explained. "I fell down on the job and didn't have the heart to go back and face the music. So I left."

OIL KING LAUDS GRANDSON

Rockefeller Letter Preferred to Love Notes by Toiling Scion of McCormick Family

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

MILWAUKEE, April 2.—The laborer may be worthy of his hire but he should be given some protection against love-stricken females. In the opinion of Fowler McCormick, 27 years of age, grandson of John D. Rockefeller and scion of the wealthy Harvester company family.

Ever since Fowler took up a job in his father's foundry here as a day laborer at $21 a week, the mailman has plodded his weary way to the modest home where Fowler rooms, depositing on the front porch (he couldn't get them into the mail box) stacks of letters from love-stricken females with marriage proposals and letters of commendation from prominent men throughout the country.

To the most of these young McCormicks have given but a cursory glance. Today, however, he received one which he read as eagerly as a senior reads his high school diploma. The letter was from his grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, in the oil king's own handwriting, and read as follows:

"My Dear Grandson: I am very pleased in the manner in which you have chosen to learn the harvester business by starting at the bottom. By doing this you will gain knowledge, first-hand, that will greatly benefit you in later years. I extend my most hearty approval of your efforts."

"Your grandfather, JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER."

Young McCormick's rise in his father's foundry is not meteoric. He has received one promotion since he started work seven weeks ago. He started in wrestling pig-iron ingots, but is now engaged in sorting castings. The difference in the two jobs is the difference in weight between a pig-iron ingot and a casting.

Meanwhile Mrs. F. H. Potter Stillman, who claims she is responsible for Fowler's energetic application to manual labor, remains in Milwaukee awaiting the arrival of her second oldest son, Alexander, who is reported ill in New York following a cruise to the West Indies.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—A four-year expedition, with a $55,000 budget with which to study the heat of the sun with a view to making long-range weather forecasts, soon will be sent halfway around the world by the National Geographic Society in cooperation with the Smithsonian Institution.

In making his announcement today, Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the society, said that Dr. Charles G. Abbott, director of the Smithsonian Institution's astrophysical observatory, would inspect sites in Baluchistan, Southwest Africa and Morocco, before deciding upon the location of a field station.

AVIATION WINS IN MAIL FIELD

Aircraft Proves Worth as Postal Carrier

Transcontinental Time Cut in Half by Plane

Latest Branch of Service Firmly Established

(This is the twelfth of a series of articles on the aircraft controversy obtained especially for The Times and the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

BY WILL IRWIN

(Copyright, 1925, by United States, Canada and Great Britain by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved.)

The United States Air-mail Service sustained many vicissitudes before its promoters saw its true uses. They found in time that airplane delivery was impracticable over comparatively short distances, and that it must involve steady night flying. Take for example the New York-Washington run, the first experiment. Practically, this venture did nothing to speed up business. Few firms had sign and mail their first letters of the day much before noon. A letter stamped for the air and mailed in Washington to noon had to be sorted; transported by truck to the flying field; flown to New York; again carried by truck to the post-office; resorted. It could scarcely reach its addressee before closing time.

The night train between New York and Washington ran on a five or six-hour schedule. A letter posted in the capital at closing time and carried by railroad usually arrives at a New York office in the first delivery next morning. The same thing is true of letters between New York and Boston or Buffalo. On these comparatively short jumps, the air mail did not, in practical terms, expedite mail delivery.

But as regards more distant points like New York and Chicago, there was a different story. A letter mailed in New York at closing time on Monday and sent to Chicago by train cannot reach the addressee until the first delivery on Wednesday—if then. But send mail-airplanes between the two cities at night, and you can "make" the first delivery on Tuesday. In this circumstance, the two cities would lie as close to each other by mail as New York to Boston, Chicago to St. Louis.

LONG FLIGHT FIRST
However, before trying to link up New York and Chicago, the promoters of the air mail made a more ambitious attempt. As soon as they proved that night flying under proper conditions was not unduly dangerous, they built between New York and San Francisco our first air line. An overland air line is not situated in the air but on the ground.

It consists first of small landing fields, as a precaution against damage in forced landings. These must lie at short intervals apart—under ideal conditions not more than

FRIEND SAVED MRS. WILHELMY
"Overwork, worry, no appetite, no sleep, I looked like a corpse," says Mrs. Mary Wilhelmy of St. Paul, Minn., "and to add to my troubles my physician advised an operation. A friend, however, asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and you should see the improvement. I eat well, sleep well, have gained in weight and strength and feel fine." That is what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Wilhelmy, and it will do as much for any suffering woman.—[Advertisement.]

"Let's Eat!"

There's a happy sequel to such a remark when you select one of the interesting cafes advertised under "Where-to-Dine" of The Times' Hotel, Resort and Travel page. Why not a tasty, satisfying dinner tonight?

twenty or twenty-five miles—and must be properly lighted. At longer intervals are larger fields staffed with mechanics to make jury repairs. On these the relay-riders of this spectacular pony-express land, transfer sacks and hop off.

A system of meteorological information, more complete and special than that which the government maintains for ground people, forms a prime necessity. That is what the modern aviator means by an air lane.

The overland lane was opened a few weeks experimentally and closed while the service made further improvements. Last summer, however, the transcontinental air mail began real and permanent operation. When it runs to form it delivers letters between San Francisco and New York in two days. Ordinarily first-class mail takes at best between four and one-half or five days.

It worked like a charm all summer and autumn. When the fierce winter storms beat on the Sierras and the Rockies, things did not go quite so well. Still, these same conditions often delayed the train-borne mail from six to eighteen days. On an average, the air mail has halved the speed of transmission between Atlantic and Pacific. Alas, it has become almost a commercial necessity. Herbert Hoover testified before the House Committee on aircraft that the close link it affords between San Francisco bankers and the New York clearinghouse saves our financiers thousands of dollars a week in interest.

DOES IT PAY?
Has it paid? In terms of direct balance between expenditure and revenue, certainly not. It has turned into the department since last summer some three-quarters of a million dollars in revenue. But it has sustained the heavy expense of construction and tuning up an air lane. And this, like the post-office service in general, is not a thing to be regarded in strict terms of profit and loss.

In the matter of "rolling stock," it has worked so far under a handicap. We inherited from the war surplus of old D. H. I. Planes. They are "grand old knockabout buses," as the aviators say. But they were built for military purposes. Revamped into freight carriers, they could handle only 350 or 400 pounds of mail. The biggest bombing plane has a lifting power of 4000 pounds; this may indicate how inadequate the revamped D. H. I.'s are as freight carriers.

New, preparatory to opening the New York-Chicago line, the air mail service has tested and approved a new and suitable type of plane. It has equal touring speed with that of the D. H. I. lands at lower speeds. And it will carry 1000 pounds of mail or freight. There are special precautions against fire, the personal devil of an airplane. A pull on a lever will drop out the gasoline tank. Pressure on a foot-button will spray every dangerous part with fire-extinguishing chemical. This, I believe, the first purely freight-carrying machine built in this country for legitimate purposes. I have been told, however, that it was anticipated a year or two ago by the resourceful bootlegger.

EXPRESS-BY-AIR NEXT?
The New York-Chicago run is naturally as much more important than the overland run, by just as much as Chicago and its environs are larger and wealthier than those of San Francisco. On its success or failure may depend the future of the freight carrying by airplane. One's imagination can picture the air lanes of the future—New York-Atlanta-Birmingham; New York-St. Louis-Kansas City; Chicago-Denver-Chicago-New Orleans; Chicago-Minneapolis-Seattle; Seattle-Portland-San Francisco-Los Angeles; and so on.

However, the government will have to build the lanes. This is a kind of subsidy. It may prove a better plan than financing companies, as in England, or paying premiums on each flying hour, as in France. And, ask the aviators, what other form of transportation has ever flourished without government subsidies? When the railroads extended their lines into the unbroken West, we gave them wide tracts of land for their trouble. We maintain lighthouses and coast guards, we dredge harbors, for our ships. The Federal road-building program is in a sense a subsidy to the automobile business.

If mail can be transported regularly and profitably by air, so can certain forms of light, compact, valuable freight. Before the Congressional Committee, several officials of express companies testified that they stood ready to use airplane transportation whenever the business should grow steady and permanent.

NEW RULES NEEDED

The pioneers of the government mail service look for no longer be a government monopoly. Uncle Sam, perhaps assisted by States and municipalities, will merely build and maintain the airways. Contracts for carriage of air mail and parcels will be let out to private corporations—just as we proceed with the railroads at present. But before that can happen, there is more ground to break.

Aviation, like all new forces of progress, has in its early stages outrun both commercial customs and laws. You cannot as yet even insure a mail parcel traveling between New York and San Francisco. The statutes are contradictory or nonexistent. For example, under the common law, a man's land title extends "clear to Heaven." To fly from New York to Chicago with entire legality, an aviator would need the written permission of 40,000 landholders.

We have no system of inspecting planes as we do steamboats, or of licensing aviators as we do water-pilots. Any gypsy flyer—expert, drunken or criminal—now may take up a passenger in a ramshackle machine. It is assumed to be nobody's business except his and his patron's. Until someone tackles the question of commercial aviation as a whole, the business will never achieve that stability which attracts capital.

"The Future," the final article of Will Irwin's series on the aircraft controversy, follows tomorrow.

COMPLETE FURNISHERS OF SUCCESSFUL HOMES

This Davenport for $125 For Friday and Saturday only!

A special two-day offer on one of our "Own Make" davenports. It is the same davenport we have been featuring at a special price of $149—a saving, you see, of $24 if you buy during these two days!

A particularly comfortable model is this—built on just the right lines to give the support needed and still allow perfect relaxation. The covering is taupe mohair with a backing of either rose or gold.

No need to speak of the materials underneath and the construction—the fact that it is one of our "Own Make" is sufficient guarantee. You can be sure the frame is spruce—the webbing especially heavy—the springs many and of the greatest resiliency. And as for the filling, every davenport is filled with a springy combination of hair and fiber that will not mat down or get lumpy.

Easily worth every bit of the usual price—it is a most remarkable opportunity at this low price—surely a wonder at $125.

Chair to match, special $69. Wing Chair to match, $74.

Beautiful Dining Group So Very Distinctive—and at Just 1/2 Price!

This group is a surprise! First its value—that you can more fully appreciate when you see it, but even this sketch shows the delicacy of the design (inspired by Duncan Phyffe) and suggests the fineness of the construction. The regular price for this group is $350, now at just half price! Think of actually saving $175, and that is just what you can do if you buy this group now at this reduction.

Every piece is distinctive. The sideboard, 66 inches long, has all the quality points usually found in groups of much higher price. The ten-leg table is especially beautiful. The chairs have the lyre back panel that makes them interesting.

But the Monk's brown finish is the newest thing about the group. A shade lighter than the usual walnut brown and high-lighted to give the light and dark unusual richness. 8 pieces, sideboard, table, 5 side chairs and an arm chair.....$175.00

Don't miss the big rug event! $200,000 worth of rugs—25 to 33 1/3% Less!

Strong Field to Compete for Southland Golf Title Next Week

CLOSE ENTRY LIST SUNDAY

Title Golf Tournament to Open Tuesday

Von Elm Still Rules Heavy Favorite to Win

Harry Ham Trophy Tourney Next Women's Event

BY CHARLES WEST

Entries close Sunday for the twenty-fifth amateur golf championship of Southern California, which will open Tuesday at the Los Angeles Country Club. So it behooves all low-handicap golfers to see that their names are in the hands of the tournament committee by that time in order that drawings may be made for the qualifying rounds. To date a large batch of golfers have signed up to battle for the title now held by Dr. Paul Hunter of Annandale, and a field of 150 is anticipated by Chester Loday, secretary of the S.C.G.A.

Play is limited to golfers with handicaps of 4 and under, but in spite of this limitation there are enough low-handicap men in the vicinity to make up a big field. Included in the list of contenders will be several prominent names, four of which have been connected with the Southern California championship in former seasons. George Von Elm, who is bound to bring top prize in the Calcutta pool Monday night; E. S. "Scotty" Armstrong, Norman Macbeth and Everett Seaver are the former titlists who will attempt to regain their lost laurels.

DARK HORSES

In addition to these men there are several others who will bear watching, such as Harlow Hurley, a former champion of Kansas, Clair Griswold of Placentia, a newcomer with a reputation, Jack Tarant of Hollywood, who is playing good golf, and W. W. Campbell of the Los Angeles Country Club; T. P. Ferguson of Brentwood, who has been scoring exceptionally well lately, A. D. S. Johnston and R. E. Hunter of Midwick, A. French and Frank DeLoet of Wilshire, Earl Velzel, Stanley Gordon, Lefty Flynn and Frank Geddes of Hollywood.

Monday night a Calcutta pool dinner will be held in the men's grill at the Los Angeles Country Club, at which time the chief contenders will be definitely arranged in their order of favorites by the sporting gentry. All members of the S.C.G.A. are invited to be present at this celebration, but must not be in touch with the Los Angeles Country Club officials and reserve a place.

BIG FAVORITE

Von Elm is such a huge favorite that he is certain to bring the largest prize, and Dr. Paul Hunter will undoubtedly be second choice. E. S. Armstrong will probably bring third money, but the rest of the field is hard to classify.

Play calls for a qualifying round of thirty-six holes, eighteen to be played Tuesday and a second round Wednesday. For the low thirty-four players for the first round. These qualifiers will be paired in two nights of thirty-six each, the championship flight competing for the championship and the second flight for the vice-presidential cup. Semifinals and finals will be over thirty-six holes, the deciding matches in both flights being set for Sunday, the 13th inst.

The tournament committee for the big event includes E. B. Tuttle as chairman, J. C. Williams as official starter and A. J. Gets as scorer, and W. D. Whelan and E. K. Hurst.

WOMEN'S EVENT

In all the excitement over the men's event the Harry Ham trophy tournament for women next Tuesday should not be overlooked. This tournament, held semi-annually, will bring dozens of feminine players of all handicaps into competition at the Brentwood Country Club in a model play handicap event, for which the Harry Ham trophy is the major prize, being awarded for the best score. A merchandise order for best gross has also been put up by Mr. Ham, while net trophies in each of the three divisions, arranged according to handicap, complete the generous prize list.

The fair golfers will be able to play any time Tuesday, being included in the list of contenders will be several prominent names, four of which have been connected with the Southern California championship in former seasons. George Von Elm, who is bound to bring top prize in the Calcutta pool Monday night; E. S. "Scotty" Armstrong, Norman Macbeth and Everett Seaver are the former titlists who will attempt to regain their lost laurels.

RAINBOW CLUB HAS ABUNDANCE OF SNOW

Leigh Garney sends in word telling of the mountains just back of the Rainbow Angling Club being covered with snow. Although it rained last Sunday, many parties of anglers were at the club and fished right through the storm, catching some of the largest trout of the season.

CONFERENCE STARS CLASH

Big Track Meet Carded for Tomorrow Afternoon at Coliseum; Pomona Doped to Win

Southern California conference track stars will make their final local appearance of the season at the Coliseum tomorrow afternoon when the annual all-conference meet is staged. Many of the athletes will show their wares in the A.A.U. affair here May 15, but tomorrow's clash is the last big local effort for most of the B.V.D. artists. Steve Cunningham, graduate manager at the meet.

The Pomona College team, champions of the conference by virtue of their victories in all dual meets, is favored to win tomorrow's clash. Occidental was given an outside chance of tripping the Saguena until last night when it was learned that Vic Conde and Squire Fulton would leave tomorrow morning with the Tiger baseball team. Conde had been count-

GRISWOLD JOINS FLINTRIDGE CLUB

Clair Griswold, recently of Portland, one of the strongest golfers of the Pacific Northwest region, has been elected to membership in the Flintridge Country Club, officials of Flintridge announced last night. Griswold is a scratch player, and will undoubtedly participate in the Southern California amateur championship at the Los Angeles Country Club next week. He has shifted his business interests to Los Angeles, and will remain here permanently.

Invited to be the guests of Mr. Ham at luncheon on the day of the tournament.

AMATEUR-PRO

Following the lead of the Midwick Country Club's tournament committee, which arranged an amateur-pro match play against par tournament several weeks ago, the Sunset Canyon Country Club of Burbank invites all professionals in Southern California, regardless of club affiliation, to play through a similar event Sunday afternoon. Each professional is to select an amateur to play in a best-ball match play against par event, stakes, a purse of $50 going to the professional and of the winning combination and a silver trophy to the amateur. A $15 prize for the best individual professional round and a cup for the best amateur round are also up for competition. All play will be at scratch over twenty-seven holes. Combinations will begin leaving the tee at 1 p.m. Sunday.

WOMEN TO SKATE FOR TROPHIES

Palais de Glace is Scene of Race Tomorrow Night for Feminine Honors

The second leg of the women's race for the Southern California championship and the Globe's ice cream trophy will be held at the Palais de Glace tomorrow night. Entrants from San Diego and Oak Land have already entered the race. Mrs. C. E. McConnell, one of the fastest women skaters in Southern California, is favored to win the cup. Trickle Hays and Jessie Theosagood are two other favorites. The University of Southern California and the motion-picture stars ice hockey teams will also meet tomorrow night. Bert Lytell, Hunter Gordon, Lefty Flynn and Red Golden are a few of the former stars who will skate with the new stars.

THREE NEW SWIMMING RECORDS HUNG UP

(BY A. P. NIGHT WRITER)

CHICAGO, April 2.—Three new world records were established tonight in the Illinois Athletic Club swimming meet here.

Arne Borg, Sweden's Paavo Nurmi of the aquatic world, clipped thirty-one seconds off the record for the 150-yard free-style event, negotiating the distance in 10m. 24s. The former record was held by Norman Rosa.

Conrad Mila, Illinois A. C. natatorial brook, own record when he went the 220-yard backstroke in 2m. 49 3-5s., compared to his former record of 2m. 58 2-5s., and Miss Ethel Lackie, Illinois A. C. swimmer, established a new record for women for the 220-yard free-style event, which she negotiated in 2m. 45 2-5s.

Gertrude Ederle of New York held the former record of 2m. 51 2-5s.

SALLY MARTINEZ IN WIN OVER ECKLAND

A bad cut over the right eye, sustained in the first round, was the undoing of Kewpie Eckland in the main event of the Pasadena Armory fights last night. Sally Martinez socked Eckland in the eye in the first round and closed it up. In the eighth round Eckland opened it again and Eckland was practically unable to see. His second round throw in the towel. Kid Fay got a decision over Danny Herrera in six rounds. Bud Garber won in four rounds over Sailor or Kid Thorpe. Young Magdalen knocked out Virgil Williams in the third round and Young Joe Rivers drew in four rounds with Joe Lee.

INDIANS RUN HERE TODAY

Redskins Who Are to Meet Nurni Late This Month in Practice Tots This Afternoon

The Hopi Indians, hope of the Far West to stop the winning streak of the mighty Paavo Nurmi when he races them over the middle-distance route at the Los Angeles Coliseum on the 25th inst., are to invade Los Angeles today.

Under the hospitable and capable guidance of Charlie Keppen of the Los Angeles Athletic Club and Bob Weaver of the A.A.U., Garnet Roy, Tom Humphries, Willie Roy, Arenas, Ames Hoyosa, star runners, accompanied by half a dozen lights of Trainer Jamison's distance squad will reach the city at noon. After luncheon at the Athletic Club the Indians will pay a hurried visit to U.S.C. and be introduced to Dean Cromwell's athletic celebrities. The Hopis will then spend a couple of hours at the Coliseum working out over what local athletic officials declare to be the fastest running track in the country.

WHITTIER NINE IN WIN OVER GIANTS

Pitching his first baseball game, Davis of Whittier High School allowed the Pico Giants two hits and Whittier won 7 to 3, at the latter's field yesterday. Davis is a complete rookie, having gone out for baseball for the first time this year. Both teams erred frequently. Bats, Whittier outfielder, hit a pair of doubles in four times at bat. The score:

R. H. E.
Whittier..... 7 3 3
Giants..... 2 2 5
Batteries—Whittier, Davis and Magill; Giants, Montgomery and Miller.

ON THE BEACH AT WAIKIKI

It's our old friend, Charles W. Paddock, holder of one or two world's sprinting records, and Loren Murchison, New York dashman, who are touring the world and letting the foreigners have a look at a couple of boys who are fast when placed on the cinders. The picture shows Paddock and Murchison, both of whom are in the first leg of their personally conducted tour. George (Dad) Center, who coached the American women Olympic swimmers, and Appleby, Outrigger Club merman, are shown with the demon sprinters.

Cherry Pie in Easy Victory at Tia Juana

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN DIEGO, April 2.—Cherry Pie, backed down to 10 cents on the dollar, the shortest price recorded at Tia Juana this winter, made a walkaway of the feature race this afternoon. The crack eastern thoroughbred covered the mile and one-sixteenth in 1:45 2-5 and won by a length over Dr. Clark without at any time extending himself.

Cherry Pie's last appearance of the season, as the big runner will be shipped tomorrow to Belmont Park, Long Island. He has been named for the principal metropolitan stakes this summer, and goes to the East to be trained by the late J. P. Jones.

Dagmar, an outsider, topped the second race, beating Acquired by two lengths. The latter just beat Love Song for the place. Love Song would have paid $17 to 1 had he not been under the wire first. Jockey Hooper brought in three winners, Swingalong, Roxana and Worthman. Results:

First race, six furlongs—Furlong (winner), time 1:15 4-5; second, time 1:16 4-5; third, time 1:17 4-5. Second race, six furlongs—Acquired (winner), time 1:16 4-5; second, time 1:17 4-5; third, time 1:18 4-5. Third race, six furlongs—Dagmar (winner), time 1:16 4-5; second, time 1:17 4-5; third, time 1:18 4-5. Fourth race, six furlongs—Cherry Pie (winner), time 1:45 2-5; second, time 1:46 2-5; third, time 1:47 2-5. ## RUNNING AROUND THE WORLD WITH PADDOCK AND MURCHISON

By Charles W. Paddock

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

HONOLULU (T. H.) April 2.—The Paradise of the Pacific stretches out before us. In front of us, as we lounge on the beach at Waikiki are the greatest surf-board riders in the world, and behind us is the Paia, from whose peaks and precipices, the ancestors of these riders fought to save their country from the white invader—and lost.

The same power and grace and strength that historians tell us made the Hawaiians such courageous seamen, has been handed down to these slim, statuesque surf-riders. As you look closely you can recognize Sam Kahanamoku and Dave and the Kahanamoku brothers, all famous Olympic swimmers, but respected more for their prowess upon the surf-board here at home.

For the greatest sport in the islands is surf-riding, and no people have ever perfected it so well. The surf-riding has become a symbol of Hawaii, and of all the riders of the sea the greatest is no longer here. For Duke Paoa Kahanamoku, hero of three Olympics, is now in the movies in Los Angeles.

The University of Hawaii, the natives set their greatest athletic thrill out of swimming. The Yale University team; the visit of Johnny Weissmuller, the human fish from Chicago; the invasion of Australian stars and the tour of Norman Ross, all aroused interest in this sport. But the greatest interest is centered around the native stars who have so well upheld the island reputation in international and national competition.

But Murchison and I found that the University of Hawaii has built up another sport until it is on a par with competition in the States. And that is football. The little island college has been competing against some of the Pacific Coast university teams each fall, against Occidental College, St. Mary's, Oregon Aggies and Pomona College and Hawaii has more than held her own. Eventually the college hopes to play the "Big Three" of California, Berkeley, Stanford and Southern California. The climate and the long trip have proven something of a handicap to these visiting football teams, but the fighting, heady eleven from Hawaii have known how to hold their own, without any outside aid.

Basketball has been growing in interest and tennis has been stimulated by the coming of the Kinneys each year. Golf is now a major sport at the university and played by a large percentage of the citizens of Honolulu.

As for track, that also has been growing in interest and the progress made and what we found when we worked out will be told in the next story.

Most Powerful Bankers in Country Lend Support

Consideration is Given as $175,000,000 Cash

Large Block of Securities to be Sold to Public

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, April 2.—Some of the country's most powerful financial interests will be associated with Dillon, Read & Co. in financing the purchase of Dodge Brothers, Inc., automobile manufacturers, for slightly less than $175,000,000 in cash.

Although negotiations for control of the huge motor company were carried on single-handed by Dillon, Read & Co., the firm will have the support of a strong banking syndicate in underwriting the transaction and offering the securities of the new corporation to the public. Allied with Dillon, Read & Co. in this connection will be Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the National City Company, the Chase Securities Corporation and the Central Union Trust Company, all of New York, and the First Trust and Savings Company, and the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Company of Chicago.

More than $100,000,000 worth of stocks and bonds of the new Dodge company will be sold to the public. Although bankers have not yet decided on the total amount of financing, it was estimated in the financial district that by applying part of the Dodge cash reserve to the purchase price, the public offering could be limited to about $125,000,000.

Dillon, Read's winning bid for the Dodge properties involved in this payment of at least $50,000,000 for "good will," which is believed to be the largest price such an item has ever commanded in a cash transaction.

The General Motors Corporation, in its offer, was understood to have valued the Dodge Company's "good will" at roughly $14,000,000, basing its estimate on plans to make Dodge a unit in its combination of motor companies.

CONFERENCES WIND UP DETAILS OF SALE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
DETROIT, April 2.—Conferences among representatives of Dillon, Read & Co., of New York, here today added no further information to last night's announcement that the New York banking firm had agreed to purchase Dodge Brothers, Inc., nor was there any authoritative statement as to what price was paid for the property.

It was reported that today's conferences were occupied with detail work and the preparation of papers for completion of the sale, but A. C. Schwartz, local representative of Dillon, Read & Co., and men from the New York offices would not indicate the progress of their work tonight.

John Ballantyne, treasurer of Dodge Brothers, Inc., was the one to whom all inquiries were referred, but he met all inquiries by saying that he could add nothing to the Dillon, Read & Co. statement.

WILBUR HITS RED TAPE IN CASE OF TAR

Orders Reservist be Paid Money Due; Tired of Two Years' Bickering

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, April 2.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur yesterday took a vigorous stand in the controversy between the Navy Department and Controller-General McCarl over the status of Will C. Perry Conway, an enlisted man in the Navy, whose pay has been held up more than two years by inter-departmental differences of opinion respecting his standing.

Although Secretary Wilbur and his predecessor, Secretary Denby, have contended there could be no doubt that Conway had been transferred from the regular Navy to the naval fleet reserve, and had been fortified in that stand by the official opinions of several attorney-general, Controller-General McCarl ruled that this former enlisted man did not have the status of a fleet reservist, and should not be paid several thousand dollars due him from the government.

Today, after being informed the controller-general had again ruled that the latest decision by an Attorney-General in the case was not binding, Secretary Wilbur cut the knot of red tape which has been seriously jeopardizing the rights of Conway and ordered him paid.

There probably have been more Navy Department rulings, decisions by the controller-general and opinions by the Attorney-General in this case than any other ever handled by the legal department of the Navy.

Masonic Symbol on Shell Found at Casa Grande

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, April 2.—Interior excavators working at the Casa Grande National Monument in Arizona reported today they had unearthed a shell carved in a primitive reproduction of the square and compass, symbols of the Masonic order.

Government archaeologists said the symbol was deposited in the mound not less than 800 years ago.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SOUTHBRIDGE (Mass.) April 2.—A canoe believed to have been used by the Indians who inhabited Denison district about 150 years ago was found submerged in a pond by Supt. George H. Abbott of the Southbridge Water Supply Company. The canoe, which was built of chestnut wood, was constructed from two logs, each twenty-one feet long. The bow, which was sunk in the mud, had deteriorated, but the rest of the craft was in excellent condition.

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 50c.—[Advertisement.]

YUKON CHANGES HIT OLD-TIMERS

Power Equipment Replaces Picks and Shovels

Hard Working and Drinking Crowd is No More

And Sourdoughs Drift Into Vancouver Hospital

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

VANCOUVER (B. C.) April 2.—It is a changed Yukon of which old-timers now speak. Several are in the hospital in Vancouver and they look back with some regret to the old roistering winter life in Dawson, which has passed away as the drifting population of adventure prospectors dwindles and power equipment largely takes the place of hand tools. The hard-drinking, hard-working crowd of prospectors of 1897 and 1898 is no more. A few still seek the "golden rule" upon distant streams, but the old thrill of spending quick money in blaring dance halls is a thing of the past, writes the Toronto Globe.

The Dawson of today is a highly respectable mining town. It holds no attractions for those old sourdoughs who remember its better days, and those who are still able to withstand the Yukon keep to their cabins on their own little plots of land. But there are others, more than one old-timer, defeated by the bitter cold, has been sent to the hospital in Vancouver this winter with limbs paralyzed and rheumatism joints. The old-timers are now in the hospital in Vancouver, and the old-timers are now in the hospital in Vancouver.

WAY TO DIVORCE MADE EASIER

Special Window Fitted up for those wishing to File Complaints

County Clerk Lampton yesterday announced that, owing to an increase in the number of divorce complaints filed, a special cage has been fitted up in his office so those wishing to take the first step toward marital freedom will not have to wait their turn with those filing other civil actions.

There were 136 divorce complaints filed in March, an increase of sixty-eight, or 10 per cent, over the previous year. This figure brings the revenue of the office from this item alone to approximately $6000 a month, so Mr. Lampton figured he could afford the addition.

The divorce cage will be in charge of Deputy County Clerk Isadore Moore.

*****

Another development which is serving to bind together the old-timers and which may even bring many of them together again, is the new gold discovery which has been made in the Dease Lake section of the Cassiar district, in Northern British Columbia. The question is whether there will be a place for them among the great power-driven dredges which will now work the creeks.

It is a difficult question to answer. They come of a race hard to kill, and every now and then one meets a Yukon sourdough who has long been lost sight of.

AIR ROUTES OF MEXICO TRIED OUT

Army Flyers' Perilous Trip Across Country is Hailed as Achievement

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

MONTEREY (Mex.) April 2.—One of the most forward steps toward commercial aviation ever taken in Mexico was the exploration flight just finished by Roberto Fierro and Pablo L. Sidar, pilots in the Mexican air force. The purpose of their trip, which took them all the way across Mexico from south to as far north as San Antonio, Tex., and south again, through Laredo, Monterey and other points to their starting point, was to show the practicability of the airplane for everyday transportation service.

In some respects it was one of the most hazardous airplane flights ever accomplished, due to the high altitude that had to be braved in crossing the Sierra Madre range. At places where the mountains were high the fliers rose to 14,000 feet above sea level. There was an entire absence of prepared landing fields from the beginning to the end of their journey, with the exception of those in Texas.

Their route was from Mexico City to Guadalajara, thence to Tepic and up the Pacific Coast to Mazatlan. At Mazatlan one of their airplanes crashed into the sea and its pilot, Jose Fonseca, was killed.

Practically all of the more than 10,000 miles of the exploration trip through Mexico was along routes and through territory where no airplane had ever before been seen.

UTILITY STOCK FLOATED TODAY

Syndicate to Offer Eastern Power Shares

District Bond Firm Will Pay Stock Dividend

Durant Officials Predict Big Activity for Year

An underwriting syndicate comprising a number of leading Los Angeles and Pacific Coast investment firms in addition to several large eastern banking houses, is making public offering today of a new $4,000,000 issue of Jersey Central Power and Light Company cumulative 7-per cent preferred stock. The shares are priced at $7, to yield 7.22 per cent.

The stock is preferred as to assets and dividends over the common stock and is entitled to cumulative dividends at the rate of 7 per cent annually. Provision is also made for payment of $118 share plus accrued dividends in the event of voluntary liquidation, and $100 a share and accrued dividends in involuntary liquidation.

Formation of the Jersey Central Power and Light Company is being completed under the laws of New Jersey with the approval of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of that State, by the consolidation of several public utility operating companies distributing electric light and power service in seventy-eight communities, and gas service to thirty-one communities in northern and eastern New Jersey.

The electric system includes steam electric generating stations with a total installed capacity of 31,500 horsepower and 197 miles of high-tension transmission lines with distributing systems aggregating 1016 miles of line serving approximately 35,000 consumers.

Gross earnings of the system for the twelve months ended November 30, last, amounted to $4,054,539, while net earnings for the same period were $1,747,818. The balance available for depreciation, amortization, Federal taxes and dividends on common stock was $474,493, or more than three and four-tenths times annual dividend requirements on the entire cumulative preferred stock to be outstanding with the completion of this financing.

To Split Up Profits

Checks in payment of the eighth quarterly dividend of the District Bond Company, at the rate of $3.50 per share, were delivered to stockholders on the 1st. Realized profits of the concern derived from the sale of securities during the first three months of 1925, have increased the undivided earnings to more than $175,000, it is reported by officials of the corporation.

At a meeting of the board of directors recently, action was taken to divide the $175,000 of these undivided profits in the form of a stock dividend. Application has been made to the State Corporation Commission for permission to issue the stock. The disbursement will be made to stockholders of record March 27, last. The dividend will be issued in shares equivalent to three-sevenths of the stock now outstanding. It is expected that the papers affecting this distribution will be in the hands of the stockholders prior to May 1.

Durant Meeting Held

An increase of 50 per cent in production and sales during the current year as compared with 1924 was the ambitious prediction made by officials at a stockholders' meeting of the Durant Motor Company held in Oakland several days ago, according to word received here yesterday. Eighty-one per cent of the stock of the company was represented at the meeting, presided over by Norman De Vaux, vice-president and general manager.

It was unanimously voted at the meeting to increase the capital stock of the company from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000, to take over the assets of the Star Motor Company of California, recently merged with the Durant Corporation. The company is now building at the rate of 116 cars daily, and the year's production is expected to reach 40,000.

BAD CHECKS

The following bulletin on bad-check writing was issued yesterday by the forger detail of the Los Angeles police department detective bureau:

Los Angeles merchants are warned regarding the activities of Ben Cox, alias B. H. Cox, who has in his possession ten checks stolen from the firm of Maxfield & Co., 744 South Los Angeles street. He will probably attempt to cash them in this city. The checks are numbered from 9750 to 9760. Check No. 9754 was issued recently but the merchant did not cash it for him. He may try some other place of business.

Following is a description of the man: American, 25 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches tall, blue eyes, dark brown hair, weight about 140 pounds. Occupation clerk or bookkeeper.

Do not cash checks for strangers, and if the above described person attempts to obtain money from you in this way, detain him until you can summon an officer.

EDISON SUIT EXPLAINED

General Counsel States Injunction Unimportant in Huge Investment Program; Decision Appealed

BY EARLE E. CROWE

More than likely a review of the ambitious projects undertaken by private capital throughout the world would show that few of them have gone very far without running into litigation of some kind. Opposition from minority stockholders or others whose interests may be concerned perhaps is necessary as a stimulus to progress, but sometimes it is difficult to explain these irritants to the financial supporters of the company involved, or to the speculators in the stock market.

In the case of the Southern California Edison Company, now engaged in the task of completing the largest hydroelectric power project in the world in the mountains above the San Joaquin Valley, the stumbling block has come in the form of a suit over riparian rights. Ordinarily, the interference immediately would be that litigation of this kind attacks the fundamental nature of the Edison investment. If this were true, the quotations on Edison stocks would express the fears and doubts of the public in no uncertain manner, but evidently the Edison stockholders are in a tranquil state of mind. Quotations since the announcement of the adverse decision given in the courts of Fresno county have given no perceptible recognition of approaching danger.

PROJECT VITAL

Certainly there are few projects in which the people of Central and Southern California have a greater interest than in the Edison program of power development in the high Sierras. The power shortage of last year possibly would have been averted had the effects of the adverse decision been heeded. The Edison storage and power plant investments had been completed. As it finally resulted, the State lost heavily in depreciation of crop values and adverse publicity. A few weeks ago the Edison company finished the Florence Lake tunnel, which affords an ample supply of water for the manufacture of electrical energy and precludes the possibility of a power shortage this year.

An abundance of faith in the work the company is doing is reflected in the steadiness of Edison stock quotations during the period of the water and power shortage, and even in the face of the injunction recently granted in favor of the Herminghaus heirs. That this attitude is warranted by the facts is indicated in an explanation of the litigation made by Roy V. Hepp, general counsel of the Southern California Edison Company.

As he outlines the terms of the injunction, the Herminghaus heirs, it has no relation to the water already erected or the use of water from the new Florence Lake tunnel through the power plants below Huntington Lake. It does forbid the new storage proposed on Florence and output for 1925 is expected to approximate 30,000 cars.

New Branch Opens

Opening of a new branch office in Long Beach today is announced by the investment banking house of Bond & Goodwin & Tucker, Inc. The new office is located in the Security Bank Building, and is under the management of Mr. Lee Cronin. He has been engaged in banking in Southern California for fifteen years, and formerly was connected with another of the large investment banking firms.

Record Copper Year Forecast by John D. Ryan

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, April 2.—John D. Ryan, chairman of the Anaconda Copper Company, said he believed 1925 would prove the record year for copper consumption both in this country and abroad. He could see no reason for weakness in the metal, asserting that shipments of refined copper by producers to fabricators in the last quarter had been unusually good, and apparently shipments of finished brass and copper goods by fabricators to ultimate consumers also had been unusually large. Reports from agents abroad show, he said, that Europe in the last week or so had begun freely on the decline, indicating that fabricators there had little apprehension as to Europe's future copper consumption.

GOODYEAR STATEMENT NEXT WEEK

Nothing of Importance is Expected to Develop; Two Back Payments Made

With the exception of a favorable statement of the year's operations anticipated, the annual meeting of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of California, scheduled for next Thursday, is not attended with the importance of previous stockholders' meetings. Since the day of the meeting does not coincide with the dividend dates it is not expected that the directors will issue an announcement of the policy contemplated with respect to future payments of dividends in arrears.

At the annual meeting last year the management announced that the company had turned its deficit into a comfortable surplus and was in shape to resume regular dividends on the preferred stock. The hope was expressed that the amount in arrears partially would be liquidated before the end of the year, and on December 15 an extra dividend of 1 1/2 per cent in addition to the regular payment was declared. Since that time a second disbursement for the account of the arrears has been made, reducing the amount from a total of $22.75 a share at the end of 1923 to $19.25 at the present time.

When the first payment on the amount in arrears was made it was stated that no fixed policy had been established and that future payments would be based solely on business conditions.

APPEAL TAKEN

The Herminghaus heirs own about 14,000 acres of riparian land situated on the San Joaquin River, near Fresno. Some time ago when the contract for the Big Creek watershed, this storage is not affected by the injunction, having existed for many years before the injunction was taken.

An appeal from the injunction granted in Fresno county has been taken by the Edison company to the Supreme Court in California. Mr. Hepp intends to press the case vigorously, because of the important question of riparian rights involved.

Occur in the higher courts, the Edison general counsel declares that the only alternative is to condemn the water rights of a number of landowners in the valley by the payment of substantial sums.

If the latter course is indicated by judicial decision, the opinion of the Edison executives is that the amount required for settlement would be relatively unimportant as compared with the large water-power investment proposed. Added to the other costs the belief is held that the amount would not substantially affect the economy of operations.

From the standpoint of stockholders, the decision of the Edison power in the State, the facts of the controversy seem to place it as a relatively insignificant problem. The Herminghaus heirs, it has no relation to the water already erected or the use of water from the new Florence Lake tunnel through the power plants below Huntington Lake. It does forbid the new storage proposed on Florence and output for 1925 is expected to approximate 30,000 cars.

Bonded Limit of Union Oil Raised by Special Vote

Stockholders of the Union Oil Company of California yesterday in a special meeting approved an increase of the authorized bonded indebtedness from $45,000,000 to $55,000,000. Prior to the meeting the directors declared the regular quarterly dividends of 45 cents a share, payable May 9 to stock of record the 16th inst.

Officers of the company explained to the stockholders that upon the issuance recently of $10,000,000 of new bonds, the amount of the authorized bonded indebtedness would be $55,000,000. Of this amount approximately $1,200,000 will be retired in the present year.

The action yesterday of the stockholders permits the directors to provide additional issues of bonds to the extent of $47,500,000 when and if it is deemed advisable to obtain additional capital from the investment market.

COTTON PRICES MOVE IN NARROW LIMITS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, April 2.—Futures moved irregularly with narrow limits in the cotton market today. Business was mainly local making operations and respectively light. Conflicting weather reports from the west were largely responsible for the lack of speculative interest. After trading slightly higher, the list reacted moderately on auction selling, but later recovered all its losses and closed 1/2 to 3/4 cent higher. Spot cotton closed unchanged at 25.00.

DULLNESS CONTINUES IN WOOL TRADING

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

BOSTON, April 2.—In the wool market today are taking no supplies, except for "household" needs. About 1.40 per pound clean is the market quotation for the staple territory, but in actual sales this figure is nominal. Limited quantities of 1 1/2 to 2 per cent Australian wools have been available in the last day or so at 1.25 clean basis in bond.

WALL STREET GOSSIP

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, April 2.—The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company has declared an initial quarterly dividend of $1.25 on the common stock, payable May 29 to holders of record May 15.

Bonds aggregating $40,016,630 have been called for payment in April in advance of maturity, compared with $40,222,640 in March, and $23,355,000 in April last year. Most of the issues will be paid in premiums varying from 1 to 10 per cent.

Earnings of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company for March are estimated in the financial district in excess of $10,000,000, a new high record. The figures have increased each month since November, 1924, from $6,800,000 to $9,000,000 in February.

FLOUR SALES GAIN

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 2.—An increased consumption in domestic territory of white flour during March is shown in sales records of Oklahoma millers. The figures show a reactionary tendency toward the use of this food, as well as a seasonal demand increase somewhat better than in recent years. Buying, however, was confined to small lots, but orders showed a larger number than usual of two-car lots, both to jobbers and bakers.

BUSINESS

Jersey Central Power & Light Company, is being formed under the laws of New Jersey, with the approval of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of New Jersey, by the merger of several public utility operating companies distributing electric light and power service to 78 communities, and gas service to 31 communities in northern and eastern New Jersey. A subsidiary company supplies water service in Lakewood and vicinity. The territory served, which includes a portion of the great Metropolitan District tributary and suburban to New York City, as well as a section of the New Jersey coast communities, has an aggregate population in excess of 214,000, and includes Morristown, Summit, Lakewood, Spring Lake, Long Branch, Asbury Park, South Amboy and Red Bank.

The Standard Oil Company's Leona No. 1, drilled with the idea of finding this hypothetical structure, is down 5510 feet without any indications. The Leona is southeast of the Bilhorn, and the northwest of the Standard Oil Company has abandoned its Potter and Smith well at approximately 5500 feet. The Leona and Potter wells, both on the general trend of production on the primary structure, seem to determine that if there is any production to be had between Athens and Ingwood, it should be on the Bilhorn ranch.

The Chanceler Canfield Midway Oil Company has leased the entire Bilhorn ranch, comprising 160 acres, and is drilling its test well on the east line of the lease, offsetting the Pan American Petroleum Company's Anderson lease, also of 160 acres. The Pan is preparing to start drilling its Anderson No. 2 farther south on the boundary line offsetting the Bilhorn.

According to geological opinion the C.C.M.O. will have to get its showings at a reasonably shallow depth, not more than 4500 feet. If it is to find them at all. Wells have been drilled on all sides of the Bilhorn, except to the north, where there is a possibility of an anticline, if there is such a thing in the neighborhood. It is located directly on a line between the Athens area of the Rosecrans field, and the Ingwood field, and if there is a rise in the structure between these two producing districts, operators figure that the Bilhorn ought to find it.

The Standard Oil Company has officially abandoned its Patton No. 1 in the Rideout Heights field after trying for a year to develop production. The Standard started this well shortly after the Whitley Oil and Refining Company completed its Whitley No. 6 on December 25, 1923, at about the same time that the Petroleum Midway Company began its drilling campaign in that area. The Patton ran into a prolonged fishing job at 2300 feet, and was ultimately drilled to about 4500 feet, without any showings sufficient to warrant hope of production.

In the year and four months since the Whitley No. 6 began flowing, it is still the only flowing well in the district, although a dozen other wells have been drilled in an attempt to find the Whitley sand. According to geologists the peculiar situation is due to the fact that the Whitley drilled into a perpendicular zone, which limits the productive area in the field to only about 100 feet in width.

The Patton No. 1, which is skidding the rig of its Athens No. 2, and will start a new hole, abandoning all hope of getting production in its original hole, according to official reports, blew out about six weeks ago, and was out of control for four days, practically junking the hole.

The Barnard Oil Company is preparing to institute a consider-

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) SACRAMENTO, April 12.—The Assembly today passed the Dillingham bill which would create a State department of mines and mineral resources.

The measure is designed to revivify mining by taking out of the hands of the Corporation Department regulatory powers governing minerals, and placing such authority in a separate department to which would be transferred the duties of the present mining bureau. The proposal now goes to the Senate.

A. E. Fitkin, Esq., President of the Corporation, summarizes his letter to the Bankers as follows:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: National Public Service Corporation (the name to be presently adopted by Jersey Central Power & Light Corporation) furnishes through subsidiaries electric light and power, and/or gas and/or water or street railway service to 181 communities in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, North Carolina and Florida. The territory served in New Jersey includes a portion of the great Metropolitan District tributary and suburban to New York City. Through these operating companies 85,842 customers are served, of which 60,312 are electrical, 24,105 gas and 1,425 water.

The electrical system of the Corporation has an installed generating capacity of 57,885 k.w., 484 miles of high tension lines and 1,458 miles of distributing lines. The gas properties include generating plants of a daily capacity of 15,500,000 cubic feet, with 406 miles of gas mains. The water properties have a capacity of 5,364,000 gallons per day and a distributing system consisting of 29 miles of water mains. The street railway properties consist of 186 equivalent miles of single track. During the year ended November 30, 1924, there were generated 91,882,219 k.w.h. of electric energy and 961,589,000 cubic feet of gas.

CONSOLIDATED EARNINGS: National Public Service Corporation and Subsidiary Companies consolidated statement for the twelve months ended November 30, 1924, after giving effect to present financing is as follows:

Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes.....	6,287,912
Net Earnings.....	$3,976,569
Bond Interest, Preferred Stock Cumulative Dividends and Prior Charges:
*Subsidiary Companies.....	$2,187,600
National Public Service Corporation.....	676,909
Balance available for Depreciation, Amortization and other Dividends.....	$1,112,060

*Not including interest on $1,350,000 Notes of Keystone Public Service Corporation and Subsidiaries which are non-interest bearing up to January 1, 1926.

The balance of $1,112,060, as shown above, is at the rate of $8.24 per share on the Class A Common Stock presently to be outstanding. After making an allowance for depreciation as provided in the various Trust Indentures, but before allowance for amortization, the above Net Earnings amounted to approximately $681,000, or over $5.00 per share. While these earnings are available for the payment of dividends on the various classes of stock of the Corporation, they are primarily available for the payment of $1.60 per share on the Class A Common Stock.

It is estimated that about $800,000, will be added to the above Net Earnings due to joint operating economies and from increased generating capacity resulting from capital expenditures already financed.

After deducting all other liabilities, including provision for minority interests, there is an equity of about $48 per share for the Class A Common Stock.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds from the sale of part of this Stock will enable the Corporation to complete the consolidation of its properties and also provide additional money for expansion, improvements and other general corporate purposes.

LOWE TAVERN
NIGHT AT KHJPacific Electric Slogan Prize

After Long Illness

BY CLAIRE FORBES CRANE

Emotional and literary tributes to the value of KHJ's broadcasting are, of course, tremendously appreciated, but we cannot help but feel a new sense of triumph when a powerful commercial company like the Pacific Electric Railway acknowledges the great benefits derived from a night spent at our studio. February 28, last, the Pacific Electric Railway Company acted as host for their first radio program and while they approved of broadcasting, naturally wished to see practical results before waxing enthusiastic.

The week-end following their program the attendance at the Mt. Lowe Tavern was more than double the record for the same week of last year! So last evening the Pacific Electric came back to us joyfully for their second appearance, which was entitled "A Night at Mt. Lowe," commemorating the opening of the Mt. Lowe Tavern, which will be formally dedicated to the public Saturday night.

SLOGAN PRIZE AWARDED

The first prize for the slogan descriptive of Mt. Lowe was awarded to Coy W. Durns and his wife. "The sky above—Southern California below—that's Mt. Lowe." Now that the enlarged tavern on Mt. Lowe is finished with $100,000 worth of improvements, the car service will certainly have to work over-time. Situated among the pines with bridge paths, tennis courts, and every known form of out-door sport—within a few minutes walk of Inspiration Point set Saturday night, the 4th inst., which will be the program of the Los Angeles Soap Company, introducing "Mission Soap," a new soap which will add to their extensive fame.

SOPRANO BACK AT KHJ

Last evening was a gala night for the many friends and admirers of Mary Newkirk Bower. Through an unfortunate accident, this lovely singer has been confined to her home for two months, and KHJ and Radioland, through the kindness of her voice and radiant personality, last night Mary Newkirk Bower sang "Spring's Awakening," by Hawley, a clever number entitled "The Owl Partnership" and several other songs filled with the breath of springtime. Of all the voices which we hear these lovely flowers and gold April days, that of Mary Newkirk Bower seems most reminiscent of the long ago, when she and the tender voice of young lovers. We welcome her back with joy and hope the radio family will all write in how glad they are to hear her again.

The women made a wonderful showing on the program. The silver tones of Helen Mead Little, flute and the masterful harp playing of Catherine Jackson are two features of our station. The Biltmore Concert Orchestra made its usual customary sensation and every number on the program had been arranged by J. Howard Johnson, describing the beauties of Nature which surround the Mt. Lowe Tavern.

The noon program presented the Piggy Wiggy Hawaiian Trio, Charles Cary Rumsey, baritone, and to our surprise and delight, "Bubble" Smith, whom we presumed to play during the flying visit she paid to KHJ.

LYRIC TENOR PLEASES
The Pacific States Electric Company matinee presented the Arion Trio, Joe Arias and Antoinette Friend and Roscoe Bell, tenor. Mr. Bell has an easy lyric tenor voice which he uses with much skill. He gave several ballads with a nice sense of atmosphere.

The children's hour brought dear little sunny Jan. Hughes, who, under the care of her wise mother, is blossoming into a flower of rare spiritual beauty. The lads and lassies were entertained by three readers, beginning with Thomas Cole Sturgeon, 2 1/2 years of age, and Mary Ann De Vay, 4, up the ladder to Phyllis Louise Jones, 6, and Francis V. Earnest, Jr., pupils of Carter Weaver, Cecilia Reiss.

Two charges of murder in the first degree were made in an indictment voted by the grand jury yesterday against Patrolman James J. Hickey, who shot and killed his wife, Mrs. Irene Hickey, and his baby boy, Sunday. The indictment was returned before Judge Hahn.

The two victims of the tragedy were laid at rest yesterday afternoon in the Sacred Heart Church at 8:30 a.m. Notable among the mourners was Detective Lieutenant Jerry Hickey, father of the patrolman and a veteran member of the police department. Hickey slew his wife and child after a dispute with her over his drinking habits, it is said. Hickey is said to assert the shooting was accidental, during a struggle with Mrs. Hickey for the possession of his revolver.

At the coroner's inquest Wednesday, it was declared the woman and child died as a result of gunshot wounds inflicted by Hickey. Asst. Capt. Bean of the homicide squad at once requested the District Attorney take the case to recover. His arraignment will take place as soon as he is able to leave his cot.

Hickey was wounded twice, once in the chest and once in the arm, by a bullet fired by the arresting officer, when he refused to surrender. He is in the General Hospital under arrest, and is expected to recover. His arraignment will take place as soon as he is able to leave his cot.

Monte Whitney Charges Husband With Cruelty in Latest Divorce Action

Monte Whitney, who gained limelight about three years ago when she charged that her husband, before their marriage, had kept her imprisoned in a San Francisco apartment as his love slave, filed a second suit for divorce yesterday. She charges extreme cruelty and habitual intemperance on the part of her husband, Phillip S. Whitney.

Mrs. Whitney, after filing the startling charge against Whitney, married him in Chicago, but found that marrying him did not improve the situation. She filed her first suit for divorce about a year ago. But they were reconciled. They finally separated, however, last Tuesday.

She charges that her husband came home drunk repeatedly, that he chased her out of their home one night and threatened to kill her with an ice pick and that he drove her mother from their home when she came to visit them by slamming doors and standing on the floor after she had retired. In her first suit she charged that he kept her a prisoner in their home without permitting her to see any friends or relatives.

YOUR INCOME TAX REFUND

Applies to joint income tax returns of husband or wife filed in California for years 1917 to 1924 inclusive where tax paid in excess of $350. We secure refund of 30% to 40% of tax paid.

The Treasury Department has announced it will not make any favorable decision retroactive, therefore rights of taxpayers will be lost unless immediate action is taken and proper filing made before expiration of Statute of Limitation.

Taxpayers should not confuse this adjustment with 25% refund of 1924. That was authorized by Act of Congress whereas the Treasury Department has announced it will not make community property refunds unless action is taken by taxpayer.

The preparation of claims and necessary documents involves technical work and requires an expert.

THE RISK
Even a confidence man doesn't always confide in his wife.

IN PARADISE
If Adam ever said "Applesauce" to Eve it's a cinch that he had his face slapped.

HINTS TO PITCHERS
It is suggested that the Tiger batteries be placed under the supervision of the Board of Control this season.

PILGRIM'S PROGRESS
Now that Dempsey is married he is giving more attention to the old boys who are pitching horseshoes. That seems to be a wholesome sport for these retiring souls.

THE NEW RATES
The new postal rates go into force the 15th of April. Now is the time to mail your souvenir postal cards. After the middle of the month it will cost 2 cents to mail a picture of the ostrich farm to the folks back East.

LIKES HARD WORK
The Presidency is a man-killer, but Calvin Coolidge has taken on flesh during his experience and has intimated that he rather enjoys the work. He comes from a wiry and hardy stock, but that is no reason why Presidential burdens should not be eased a little.

A FINE POINT
A bank clerk is in the divorce courts on complaint of the wife, who describes his domestic system as cruel. Among other regulations the husband levied a fine of $1 upon the wife for every time she spoke out of her turn. He must have been in a hurry to go into the banking business for himself.

CAN HAPPEN
A Wisconsin man lost his teeth while out on a foot. They were false ones, however, and the victim fared better than the man who lost a couple of real eyes through indulgence in wood alcohol. There is proof, nevertheless, that a man may lose his molars as well as his morals through indulgence in strong drink.

THE HIGH COMMAND
The Boston Red Sox have eighteen pitchers on their club roster and twelve of them are each over six feet high. A staff like that would be impressive in a tug-of-war, but there are men still living who can remember when a baseball team carried but two pitchers and was called extravagant, at that.

THE STOCKHOLDERS
Wealth is being distributed—or at least its investment is. There are nearly 4,000,000 more stockholders in the country's basic industries than there were six years ago. The number of small investors has more than doubled. The worker is becoming a partner in the firm. All economists will agree that this is a good sign and is a portent of industrial peace.

ROOM FOR ARGUMENT
A college bulletin issued by Uncle Sam's Bureau of Education questions the practical value of algebra and the dead languages in the program of modern schooling. Arithmetic and the living languages are important, but algebra and the dead ones should be elective rather than compulsory—so far as the student is concerned. There are a lot of studies that are unimportant and a few that are unworthy. The schools are trying to cover too much mental territory and are bound to be criticised by the proponents of an efficiency program.

IRISH IN AMERICA
The new Irish Free State is endeavoring to discourage emigration. The son of Erin has been a great wanderer and the population of the green isle has been kept down by this innate love for adventure. There are more Irishmen in New York than in Dublin. More than 1,000,000 native sons of Ireland have crossed the water to create homes in America. They are still coming and in even greater numbers they are leaving Erin for Canada, Australia and other outlying portions of the empire. That is why the present government of the Irish Free State is striving to hold the people together.

BUSINESS AS USUAL
Secretary Hoover says that we are blessed with a reasonable stability, which is business-college English for safe and sane. Conditions are entirely favorable for sound and continued prosperity. This may not appease those who want things at high pressure, with a bull market and inflation in the air. When a few people are getting rich quick it is not best for the country as a whole. Hectic booms do more harm than good in the long run. People do not need feverish action. What they want is a long, strong pull, with a stout heart. Prosperity should not belong to the speculators, but to the workers. Business is firm and will continue.

NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITY

Too many, even among those living on the Pacific Coast, fail to realize the vast importance to American commerce and industry of the vast region lying on the other side of the Pacific and known as the Far East. There has always been a feeling in this country that the Philippine Islands have been more of a liability than an asset to the United States and that we would be well rid of them.

As a matter of fact, it requires but slight research to discover the dependence of the United States and Great Britain upon the products of the Far East. That very term is a misnomer as far as the Pacific Coast is concerned. We have taken it from the British journals; but what is the Far East to London is in the reality the Near East to Los Angeles. The sailing distance from Los Angeles to the coast of Siberia is little more than that to the Pacific entrance, which, contradictory as it may seem, is the eastern entrance to the Panama Canal.

In 1923 the United States did a trade of $127,000,000 with the Philippines. In 1924 that trade increased to $250,000,000, which indicates that the agricultural development of the Philippines is now fairly under way. It is under American supervision, and largely through American investment, that this development has taken place.

The coconut trade alone has become increasingly important. Important products are obtained from the coconut tree, and one-third of the world's supply comes from the Philippine Islands. Another important staple is hemp; and the hemp of the Philippines and the jute of India supply the farmers of the world with their containers for delivering their products to consumers.

Manila is the natural distributing point for the commerce of the United States with the Orient. And the development of that commerce is still in its infancy. The countries bordering the other side of the Pacific are great reservoirs of what we term raw products. Java supplies most of the tin in which California products are inclosed for sale to consumers. According to the New York branch of the American Chamber of Commerce of the Philippines, England did last year a trade amounting to more than $350,000,000 with the Far East. Why is it that the Pacific Coast, lying so many thousands of miles nearer, should not do half as much?

Repeatedly has the statement been made that the future of the Pacific Coast lies upon the Pacific. If we are to become more renowned commercially and industrially we must draw much more on that great storehouse of raw material in the Orient; and to do so it is essential that we shall continue to develop our natural distributing depot, the ports of the Philippines.

JOHN BULL, DOLE DEALER

A light at last is breaking through the fog that clouded John Bull's intellect at the time when he subscribed to the Socialistic policy of providing doles for the unemployed. Every year since the adoption of the "dole" the industrial situation in Great Britain has gone from bad to worse. By the irony of fate the most emphatic protest against the enslaving dole has come, not from the taxpayer or the capitalist, but from a leader of the Labor party at a mass meeting of miners and workmen.

Speaking at Cardiff, Wales, the other day, J. H. Thomas characterized the dole as the most demoralizing influence in the life of the British worker. Its cost, he said, was tremendous. He called it the most expensive deal the nation had ever made. And he finished with the sweeping indictment "the loss of character and manhood among the people (caused by the dole system) was the most abominable and dangerous thing the country had to face."

A large crowd of assembled workers cheered the sentiments expressed by this prominent labor leader, late member of the Socialist Cabinet and colleague of ex-Premier Ramsay MacDonald. Apparently, the truth is being brought home to British labor that this lulling out of doles is strangling industry, increasing the unemployment and is designed to alleviate, robbing the worker of his self-respect and selling the trade of the nation for a miserable and inadequate mess of red potage.

Enlightened members of British society, manufacturers, distributors, statisticians, publicists have known for a long time that John Bull was draining his arteries of good blood to suckle loafer and shirkers when he began to distribute the earnings of the workers to all who came with empty pails to fill. The relief afforded was temporary; the mischief threatened to be permanent.

Humanitarianism prompts relief for distress in periods of excessive unemployment. In a well-organized society under normal conditions there is a fair wage for the man who is able and willing to work. The war disorganized industrial England. But placing a premium on idleness and voting a bonus for the man out of a job was dulling a temporary pain at the price of acquiring a deadly opiate habit.

John Bull begins to realize that a dole deal for the few is not a square deal for the many. Such a policy, persisted in, kills ambition, destroys initiative, narrows the people and bankrupts the taxpayers. But its most abominable feature, as Mr. Thomas pointed out, is the loss of character and manhood with which it infects the individual.

Before the British nation loses the individuality of the private citizen, the source of its past successes, it had best wipe out from the statute books this pernicious piece of Socialistic legislation. The time to do so is propitious. A strong Conservative party is in power. And a spokesman for British labor has pointed the way.

OVER-DOCTORED

England is said to have more doctors than are needed. Hundreds of them are walking the streets of London in search of jobs that would pay a paltry $10 a week. During and after the war a lot of British medical schools turned out physicians at a rapid rate. Many of them are entirely competent, but there are not enough patients to go 'round. Lady doctors have no chance at all. They cannot even get jobs as office assistants. The schools are blamed for this condition, but if the English are too healthy to need an army of doctors, the nation can hardly be expected to grieve. It is unfortunate for the physicians, but endurable to the masses.

THE UNDESIRABLES

About 500 women and girls, black and white, were summarily dumped across the border into California by the authorities of Lower California on Wednesday as "undesirables." Their alleged crimes were offenses against public morals. According to the Mexican authorities, they all came from the United States. The American towns along the border refused to harbor them, ordering them to "move on" and they are now making their way to the cities of the interior.

How shall they be received? What disposition shall be made of them? They have wrecked their lives and the lives of hundreds who came into contact with them. Many have contracted the "red plague" and their touch is poisonous. They have forfeited the right to the respect of decent people by their premeditated waywardness. They symbolize the vice that wrecks homes, communities and sometimes nations. Many have been sinned against; but they have all sinned of their own volition.

Yet they are women, the daughters of men. At one time women of their type were stoned. Then came One who said: "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone." And, when the Treaty of Versailles was in the making, Woodrow Wilson said: "We must be just, even to those to whom we do not want to be just." It is justice, tempered with mercy, that has made human progress possible.

TYPICAL AMERICAN MUSIC

"The mocking bird, the saxophone and the cash register" furnish the typical American music, wheezes a London daily.

We acknowledge the mocking bird with enthusiasm and thanks. It not only soothes its mate in the midnight, but also the dwellers in our humble home and tangles its obligato among our dreams. It is a melodious lark, a robin, a Kentucky cardinal, a whippoorwill and a canary all combined in one; but at times it surpasses them all. Nor does it wait for the sun to come up on it. The eagle never shows itself except when it would have its picture taken for a new coin and its song is not much to speak of. The great American bird, the turkey, may seem to accomplish more at Thanksgiving time by its gobble; but the mocking bird has set the womanhood of the country warbling. The stork serves a useful purpose; but the mocking bird sings to sleep when the stork has flown away. If the music of the mocking bird be indigenous to America we are willing to acknowledge it as our own.

The saxophone is our chief instrument of torture. Whisky makes a man beat his family; the automobile imperils the life of the pedestrian; but the saxophone is a pestilence. If the saxophone were played in a tender, suppressed manner we should be more enthusiastic. If it were handled with greater self-control and moderation we might not object. As it is, we are compelled to confess it with our other sins.

But what shall be said of the cash register? Is its music really discord to European ears? Does the cash register in the box office offend the European prima donna on the stage? Do European counts and dukes have any special aversion to the cash register when they come over to this country to recoup their fortunes by winning brides? Do they ever reject the wedding march as played on the cash register?

Has not the music of the American cash register been the national anthem of many European states since the war? At least have we not heard them harping on it considerably?

We hold no special brief for the cash register as a musical instrument. It has a creak and metallic sound. However, just when we were beginning to pick out a few tunes on its melodious finger board the dark hint that its music is not as mellifluous and classical as it ought to be wounds us deeply.

THE NEW STATESMANSHIP

No longer a Senator, roused unto wrath,
By a crafty political foe,
Bursts forth with a screech into vilest speech
Which lasts half a session or so.
Instead he goes into his office and pens
An epic severe and sublime.
And lands on the bird with the cold printed word
In the form of a terrible rhyme.

If the White House incumbent has vetoed a bill
That a fence back at home might repair,
No longer a roar from the Capitol floor
Shakes the radio waves from the air.
But with Dryden or Byron or Pope as a guide,
The statesman, deferring his lunch,
Till a verse that is fit for the crime has been writ,
Comes back with a galloping punch.

No longer the chambers and galleries ring
With a fierce oratorical storm.
A Congressman's wrongs are now spoken in songs
Or expressed in poetical form.
And the man in the White House is barred from a part
Of the savage and unequal strife;
He is at his wife's end, for he never has penned
A poem in all of his life!

However, if poetry's help can assuage
The wrath of a Senator's heart;
If the rage we once heard in long word after word
Can be soothed with the Byronic art,
We trust that this form of debate will go on
For the metrical style of retort—
Rhyme being quite hard for the Capitol bard—
Is bound to be tolerably short!

PLANT TREES

By proclamation of President Coolidge and with the participation of the Governors of the various States the week of April 27 has been made American Forest Week. President Coolidge says that we have too freely spent the rich and magnificent gift that nature bestowed upon us. Our landowners, our farmers and all citizens must learn to treat our forests as we do our crops—to be used, but also to be renewed.

The forests of the future must be started today. Forest Week will mark notable action in this direction. More than 100 national organizations are participating. In many States as possible Arbor Day will be observed within the span of the week thus designated and in every community the schools and patriotic organizations will help give substance to the sentiment that the observance carries.

TOO MANY COOKS

Sunday elections and a multiplicity of parties do not make for political peace in Germany. Every time they have an election in some European country the real benefits of our two-party system are disclosed. It makes for both stability and responsibility. In some lands there are from a dozen to a score of parties—all of the same voting strength. To have political rest and commercial confidence under such terms is impossible.

DELAWARE'S WHIPPING POST

BY BAILEY MILLARD

Delaware, a toy State of three little counties and 225,000 people, has voted to retain the whipping post. For over 140 years criminals have been flogged there for great and small offenses, despite the fact that the Federal Constitution prohibits "cruel and unusual punishment." The matter was up before Congress several years ago on complaint of a western Representative in that body, but the eloquent appeal of Congressman Franklin Brockton of Delaware to the chairmen of the House was the day for the lash-wielders. Brockton urged wife-beating and other crimes against women could be properly punished in no other way.

At the time that Brockton was making this appeal, however, the law of his State, which prescribed that whipping should be inflicted by strokes upon the bare back, well laid on," was made to apply to different crimes as follows, the figures representing the maximum number of lashes: Larceny, 20; burglary, 40; horse-theft, 20; burning vessel, factory, warehouse, house or barn, 20; obstructing railroad tracks, 20; embezzlement, 20; forgery or counterfeiting, 20; maiming, 20; kidnapping, 20; highway robbery, 40; plain robbery, 30; showing false lights to cause wreck of vessel, 30; wife-beating, from 5 to 30 lashes. And so on down the list, with or without imprisonment. Wife-beating was an afterthought and had been added only a short time before.

A little later I visited the Newcastle County Workhouse, which is also the State prison. There saw a half-baked white man manacled to the whipping post in the prison yard and given twenty lashes for stealing a pair of shoes. He was a hobo. While he cringed and twisted in agony the warden did the whipping in a business-like way, laying on the cruel cat with a vehemence that made great purple stripes appear upon the victim's back. I never felt so sorry for a human being in all my life, and rarely have been more nauseated.

I had read about the brutal whipping penalties dealt out by Lord George Jeffreys, judge of the Bloody Assizes in the time of James II, and did not wonder that the lash fell into disuse in England on the downfall of James and the banishment of Jeffreys. I also had read that Delaware for many years had whipped women and did not wonder that it discarded the horrible practice in 1859. What I did marvel at was that a State of this enlightened Union could go on lashing the bare backs of men for comparatively small offenses or for offenses of any sort when three of its legislators had admitted to me that it was doubtful that such cruel punishment had a deterrent effect upon criminals.

Besides the whipping post I saw in the prison yard an old-fashioned pillory which had been used for punishing offenders up to 1905. It had been left there, not as a relic, but with the idea that its use might again be sanctioned by law, as some of the State's legislators had advocated.

It is easy for people to talk themselves into a state of mind. Whenever the abolition of the whipping post has been agitated leading conservative citizens, who had fully convinced themselves of the efficacy of the treatment of felons and misdemeanants, have reminded the reformers that Delaware is traversed by hoboes and other wicked men whose criminal activities needed to be discouraged. "Keep the hoboes out of Delaware!" has been the cry, and it is a senseless cry, for every State is traversed by tramps, and for the further reason that whipping, while it ought to keep them out of Delaware, does nothing of the sort.

Atty-Gen. Walcott told me he was not sure that the lashes had a deterrent effect upon the criminal. He said his sympathies had been deeply aroused while witnessing a severe flogging of a man. "I am satisfied," said former Atty-Gen. Ward to me, "from all my observation of the history of crime in Delaware, that the lashes have no particularly deterrent effect. If we were a legislator I certainly never would vote for a whipping act. I saw a man tied to the post, scourged with the cruel lash, and I never want to see such a sight again."

And yet, in this year of our Lord 1925, after due deliberation, the legislators of Delaware, by a vote of 31 to 1, have decided to retain the ancient whipping post "for the punishment of certain classes of crime now as in former years." Do the members know that even cruel Rome did not use the lash to punish its offending freemen?

ORIGIN OF VAUDEVILLE

BY LEE SHIPPEY

Do you know the origin of the word "vaudeville"? I came on it in the history of French literature the other day and it seems interesting enough to pass along; especially as so many Americans disagree on the pronunciation of the word, the supporters of voh-vil, vawvil and vawdvyil running pretty nearly neck and neck.

Away back in the thirteenth century there was a Norman poet named Olivier Basselin who lived in the town of Vaux on the River Vire. Olivier was a maker and singer of light, joyful songs, the sort of chap who was most popular in the little towns on market days. He wasn't an acrobat nor a comedy dog nor a thirty-second (rate) crayon artist, and all such are slanders on his memory. He sang merry songs with enthusiasm and between staves with equal enthusiasm—lubricated his throat with the elder for which Norman is famous and which often gets much harder than a keg of nails. That was all.

But he sang so well and so merrily that he became a national figure, and his entertainments were known by the name of his town, Vaux de Vire. The imitators sprang up (how suggestive that of vaudeville) and the country entertainments became the fad of Paris. Then, to signify the fact that they became the fad of Vaux de Vire, in the words of the old French, they were called vaudeville, giving the present name.

At the time that Brockton was making this appeal, however, the law of his State, which prescribed that whipping should be inflicted by strokes upon the bare back, well laid on," was made to apply to different crimes as follows, the figures representing the maximum number of lashes: Larceny, 20; burglary, 40; horse-theft, 20; burning vessel, factory, warehouse, house or barn, 20; obstructing railroad tracks, 20; embezzlement, 20; forgery or counterfeiting, 20; maiming, 20; kidnapping, 20; highway robbery, 40; plain robbery, 30; showing false lights to cause wreck of vessel, 30; wife-beating, from 5 to 30 lashes. And so on down the list, with or without imprisonment. Wife-beating was an afterthought and had been added only a short time before.

THE RISK

Even a confidence man doesn't always confide in his wife.

IN PARADISE

If Adam ever said "Applesauce" to Eve it's a cinch that he had his face slapped.

HINTS TO FITCHERS

It is suggested that the Tiger batteries be placed under the supervision of the Board of Control this season.

PILGRIM'S PROGRESS

Now that Dempsey is married he is giving more attention to the old boys who are pitching horseshoes. That seems to be a wholesome sport for these retiring souls.

THE NEW RATES

The new postal rates go into force the 15th of April. Now is the time to mail your souvenir postal cards. After the middle of the month it will cost 2 cents to mail a picture of the ostrich farm to the folks back East.

LIKES HARD WORK

The Presidency is a man-killer, but Calvin Coolidge has taken on flesh during his experience and has indicated that he rather enjoys the work. He comes from a wiry and hardy stock, but that is no reason why Presidential burdens should not be eased a little.

A FINE POINT

A bank clerk is in the divorce courts on complaint of the wife, who describes his domestic system as cruel. Among other regulations the husband levied a fine of $1 upon the wife for every time she spoke out of her turn. He must have been in a hurry to go into the banking business for himself.

CAN HAPPEN

A Wisconsin man lost his teeth while out on a toot. They were false ones, however, and the victim fared better than the man who lost a couple of real eyes through indulgence in wood alcohol. There is proof, nevertheless, that a man may lose his molars as well as his morals through indulgence in strong drink.

THE HIGH COMMAND

The Boston Red Sox have eighteen pitchers on their club roster and twelve of them are each over six feet high. A staff like that would be impressive in a tug-of-war, but there are men still living who can remember when a baseball team carried but two pitchers and was called extravagant at that.

THE STOCKHOLDERS

Wealth is being distributed—or at least its investment is. There are nearly 4,000,000 more stockholders in the country's basic industries than there were six years ago. The number of small investors has more than doubled. The worker is becoming a partner in the firm. All economists will agree that this is a good sign and is a portent of industrial peace.

ROOM FOR ARGUMENT

A college bulletin issued by Uncle Sam's Bureau of Education questions the practical value of algebra and the dead languages in the program of modern schooling. Arithmetic and the living tongues are important, but algebra and the dead ones should at least be elective rather than compulsory—so far as the student is concerned. There are a lot of studies that are unimportant and a few that are unworthy. The schools are trying to cover too much mental territory and are bound to be criticized by the proponents of an efficiency program.

IRISH IN AMERICA

The Irish Free State is endeavoring to discourage emigration. The son of Erin has been a great wanderer and the population of the green isle has been kept down by this innate lust for adventure. There are more Irishmen in New York than in Dublin. More than 1,000,000 native sons of Ireland have crossed the water to create homes in America. They are still coming and in even greater numbers they are leaving Erin for Canada, Australia and other outlying portions of the empire. That is why the present government of the Irish Free State is striving to hold the people together.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

Secretary Hoover says that we are blessed with a reasonable stability, which is business-college English for safe and sane. Conditions are entirely favorable for sound and continued prosperity. This may not appease those who want things at high pressure, with a bull market and inflation in the air. When a few people are getting rich quick it is not best for the country as a whole. Hectic booms do more harm than good in the long run. People do not need feverish action. What they want is a long, strong pull, with a stout heart. Prosperity should not belong to the speculators, but to the workers. Business is firm and will continue.

NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITY

Too many, even among those living on the Pacific Coast, fail to realize the vast importance to American commerce and industry of the vast region lying on the other side of the Pacific and known as the Far East. There has always been a feeling in this country that the Philippine Islands have been more of a liability than an asset to the United States and that we would be well rid of them.

As a matter of fact, it requires but slight research to discover the dependence of the United States and Great Britain upon the products of the Far East. That very term is a misnomer as far as the Pacific Coast is concerned. We have taken it from the British journals; but what is the Far East to London is in the reality the Near East to Los Angeles. The sailing distance from Los Angeles to the coast of Siberia is little more than that to the Pacific entrance, which, contradictory as it may seem, is the eastern entrance to the Panama Canal.

In 1923 the United States did a trade of $127,000,000 with the Philippines. In 1924 that trade increased to $250,000,000, which indicates that the agricultural development of the Philippines is now fairly under way. It is under American supervision, and largely through American investment, that this development has taken place.

The coconut trade alone has become increasingly important. Important products are obtained from the coconut tree, and one-third of the world's supply comes from the Philippine Islands. Another important staple is hemp; and the hemp of the Philippines and the hemp of India supply the farmers of the world with their containers for delivering their products to consumers.

Manila is the natural distributing point for the commerce of the United States with the Orient. And the development of that commerce is still in its infancy. The countries bordering the other side of the Pacific are great reservoirs of what we term raw products. Java supplies most of the tin in which California products are inclosed for sale to consumers. According to the New York branch of the American Chamber of Commerce of the Philippines, England did last year a trade amounting to more than $3,500,000,000 with the Far East. Why is it that the Pacific Coast, lying so many thousands of miles nearer, should not do half as much?

Repeatedly has the statement been made that the future of the Pacific Coast lies upon the Pacific. If we are to become world renowned commercially and industrially we must draw much more on that great storehouse of raw material in the Orient; and to do so it is essential that we shall continue to develop our natural distributing depot, the ports of the Philippines.

JOHN BULL, DOLE DEALER

A light at last is breaking through the fog that clouded John Bull's intellect at the time when he subscribed to the Socialistic policy of providing doles for the unemployed. Every year since the adoption of the "dole" the industrial situation in Great Britain has gone from bad to worse. By the irony of fate the most emphatic protest against the ever-increasing dole has come, not from the taxpayer or the capitalist, but from a leader of the Labor party at a mass meeting of miners and workmen.

Speaking at Cardiff, Wales, the other day, J. H. Thomas characterized the dole as the most demoralizing influence in the life of the British worker. Its cost, he said, was tremendous. He called it the most expensive deal the nation had ever made. And he finished with the sweeping indictment "the loss of character and manhood among the people (caused by the dole system) was the most abominable and dangerous thing the country had to face."

A large crowd of assembled workers cheered the sentiments expressed by this prominent labor leader, late member of the Socialist Cabinet and colleague of ex-Premier Ramsay MacDonald. Apparently, the truth is being brought home to British labor that this lading out of doles is strangling industry, increasing the unemployment it was designed to alleviate, robbing the worker of his self-respect and selling the trade of the nation for a miserable and inadequate mess of red potage.

Enlightened members of British society, manufacturers, distributors, statisticians, publicists have known for a long time that John Bull was draining his arteries of good blood to suckle loafer and shirkers when he began to distribute the earnings of the workers to all who came with empty pails to fill. The relief afforded was temporary; the mischief threatens to be permanent.

Humanitarianism prompts relief for distress in periods of excessive unemployment. In a well-organized society under normal conditions there is a fair wage for the man who is able and willing to work. The war disorganized industrial England. But placing a premium on idleness and voting a bonus for the man out of a job was dulling a temporary pain at the price of acquiring a deadly opiate habit.

John Bull begins to realize that a dole deal for the few is not a square deal for the many. Such a policy, persisted in, kills ambition, destroys initiative, pauperizes the people and bankrupts the taxpayers. But its most abominable feature, as Mr. Thomas pointed out, is the loss of character and manhood with which it infects the individual.

Before the British nation loses the individuality of the private citizen, the source of its past successes, it had best wipe out from the statute books this pernicious piece of Socialistic legislation. The time to do so is propitious. A strong Conservative party is in power. And a spokesman for British labor has pointed the way.

OVER-DOCTORED

England is said to have more doctors than are needed. Hundreds of them are walking the streets of London in search of jobs that would pay a paltry $10 a week. During and after the war a lot of British medical schools turned out physicians at a rapid rate. Many of them are entirely competent, but there are not enough patients to go 'round. Lady doctors have no chance at all. They cannot even get jobs as office assistants. The schools are blamed for this condition, but, if the English are too healthy to need an army of doctors, the nation can hardly be expected to grieve. It is unfortunate for the physicians, but endurable to the masses.

THE UNDESIRABLES

About 500 women and girls, black and white, were summarily dumped across the border into California by the authorities of Lower California on Wednesday as "undesirables." Their alleged crimes were of offenses against public morals. According to the Mexican authorities, they all came from the United States. The American towns along the border refused to harbor them, ordering them to "move on" and they are now making their way to the cities of the interior.

How shall they be received? What disposition shall be made of them? They have wrecked their lives and the lives of hundreds who came into contact with them. Many have contracted the "red plague" and their touch is poisonous. They have forfeited the right to the respect of decent people by their premeditated waywardness. They symbolize the vice that wrecks homes, communities and sometimes nations. Many have been stoned against; but they have all signed of their own volition.

Yet they are women, the daughters of men. At one time women of their type were stoned. Then came One who said: "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone." And, when the Treaty of Versailles was in the making, Woodrow Wilson said: "We must be just, even to those to whom we do not want to be just." It is justice, tempered with mercy, that has made human progress possible.

TYPICAL AMERICAN MUSIC

The mocking bird, the saxophone and the cash register furnish the typical American music, whereas a London ditty.

We acknowledge the mocking bird with enthusiasm and thanks. It not only soothes its mate in the midnight, but also the dwellers in our humble home and tangles its obligato among our dreams. It is a meadow lark, a robin, a Kentucky cardinal, a whippoorwill and a canary all combined in one; but at times it surpasses them all. Nor does it wait for the sun to come up so it can see its score, like the rooster; but bursts forth like a fountain any time of day or night. The eagle never shows itself except when it would have its picture taken for new coin and its song is not much to speak of. The great American bird, the turkey, may seem to accomplish more at Thanksgiving time by its gobble; but the mocking bird has set the womanhood of the country warbling. The stork serves a useful purpose; but the mocking bird sings them to sleep when the stork has flown away. If the music of the mocking bird is indigenous to America we are willing to acknowledge it as our own.

The saxophone is our chief instrument of torture. Whiskey makes a man beat his family; the automobile imperils the life of the pedestrian; but the saxophone is a pestilence. If the saxophone were played in a tender, suppressed manner we should be more enthusiastic. If it were handled with greater self-control and moderation we might not object. As it is, we are compelled to confess it with our other sins.

But what shall be said of the cash register? Is its music really discord to European ears? Does the cash register in the box office offend the European prima donna on the stage? Do European counts and dukes have any special aversion to the cash register when they come over to this country to recoup their fortunes by winning brides? Do they ever reject the wedding march as played on the cash register?

Has not the music of the American cash register been the national anthem of many European states since the war? At least have we not heard them harping on it considerably?

We hold no special brief for the cash register as a musical instrument. It has a crash and metallic sound. However, just when we were beginning to pick out a few tunes on its melodious finger board the dark hint that its music is not as mellifluous and classical as it ought to be wounds us deeply.

THE NEW STATESMANSHIP

No longer a Senator, roused unto wrath,
By a crafty political foe,
Bursts forth with a screech into vilest speech
Which lasts half a session or so.
Instead he goes into his office and pens
An epic severe and sublime,
And lands on the bird with the cold printed word
In the form of a terrible rhyme.

If the White House incumbent has vetoed a bill
That a fence back at home might repair,
No longer a roar from the Capitol floor
Shakes the radio waves from the air.
But with Dryden or Byron or Pope as a guide,
The statesman, deferring his lunch,
Till a verse that is fit for the crime has been writ,
Comes back with a galloping punch.

No longer the chambers and galleries ring
With a fierce oratorical storm.
Whenever the lobbies are now spoken in songs
Or expressed in poetical form.
And the man in the White House is barred from a part
In the savage and unequal strife;
He is at his wit's end, for he never has penned
A poem in all of his life!

However, if poetry's help can assuage
The wrath of a Senator's heart;
If the rage we once heard in long word after word
Can be soothed with the Byronic art,
We trust that this form of debate will go on
For the metrical style of retort—
Rhyme being quite hard for the Capitol bard—
Is bound to be tolerably short!

PLANT TREES

By proclamation of President Coolidge and with the participation of the Governors of the various States the week of April 27 has been made American Forest Week. President Coolidge says that we have too freely spent the rich and magnificent gift that nature bestowed upon us. Our landowners, our farmers and all citizens must learn to treat our forests as we do our crops—to be used, but also to be renewed. The forests of the future must be started today. Forest Week will mark notable action in this direction. More than 100 national organizations are participating. In as many States as possible Arbor Day will be observed within the span of the week thus designated and in every community the schools and patriotic organizations will help give substance to the sentiment that the observance carries.

TOO MANY COOKS

Sunday elections and a multiplicity of parties do not make for political peace in Germany. Every time they have an election in some European country the real benefits of our two-party system are disclosed. It makes for both stability and responsibility. In some lands there are from a dozen to a score of parties—all of much the same voting strength. To have political rest and commercial confidence under such terms is impossible.

KINGS OF EGYPT

Kings of Egypt, kings of Egypt,
Everlasting tombs you reared
To inform the future ages
How you gloried and were feared;
How your vassals wrought to serve you,
Toiled and died the tale to place
On the records of the ages
Such as never earth had disgraced;
Of your riches, of your splendor,
Of your conquests, of your slaves,
Of the people you made suffer,
Of proud armies in their graves;
Monuments of stone and mortar
And since then has never known
Yet at best they were but stone;
Yet at best they were but symbols
Of the hollow hearts of men,
Of the pomp, false pride, vain glory
Ruling as they rule again;
Of conceit and greed and envy
And the selfishness which changed
Earth from Paradise—from Eden—
To a place of men estranged
From God's plans. Oh, kings of Egypt
Where are proofs of good intentions
For the welfare of your people,
Where your living monuments?
LEE SHIPPEY.

DELAWARE'S WHIPPING POST

BY BAILEY MILLARD

Delaware, a toy State of three little counties and 235,000 people, has voted to retain the whipping post. For over 140 years criminals have been flogged there for great and small offenses, despite the fact that the Federal Constitution prohibits "cruel and unusual punishment." The matter was up before Congress several years ago on complaint of a western Representative in that body, but the eloquent appeal of Congressman Franklin Brockson of Delaware to the chivalry of the House won the day for the lash-wielders. Brockson urged that wife-beating and other crimes against women could be properly punished in no other way.

At the time that Brockson was making this appeal, however, the law of his State, which prescribed that whipping should be "inflicted by strokes upon the bare back, well laid on," was made to apply to different crimes as follows, the figures representing the maximum number of lashes: Larceny, 20; burglary, 40; horse-theft, 30; burning public building, 60; burning vessel, factory, warehouse, house or barn, 20; obstructing railroad tracks, 20; embezzlement, 20; forgery or counterfeiting, 30; maiming, 30; kidnapping, 30; highway robbery, 40; plain robbery, 30; showing false lights to cause wreck of vessel, 30; wife-beating, from 5 to 30 lashes. And so on down the list, with or without imprisonment. Wife-beating was an afterthought and had been added only a short time before.

A little later I visited the New-castle County Workhouse, which is also the State prison. There I saw a half-naked white man manacled to the whipping post in the prison yard and given twenty lashes for stealing a pair of shoes. He was a hobo. While he cringed and twisted in agony the warden did the whipping in a business-like way, laying on the cruel cut with a vehemence that made great purple stripes appear upon the victim's back. I never felt so sorry for a human being in all my life, and rarely have been more nauseated.

I had read about the brutal whipping penalties dealt out by Lord George Jeffreys, judge of the Bloody Assizes in the time of James II, and did not wonder that the lash fell into disuse in England on the downfall of James and the banishment of Jeffreys. I also had read that Delaware for many years had whipped women and did not wonder that it discontinued the horrible practice in 1839. What I did marvel at was that a State of this enlightened Union could go on lashing the bare backs of men for comparatively small offenses or for offenses of any sort when three of its leading officials had admitted to me that it was doubtful that such cruel punishment had a deterrent effect upon criminals.

Besides the whipping post I saw in the prison yard an old-fashioned pillory which had been used for punishing offenders up to 1905. It had been left there, not as a relic, but with the idea that its use might again be sanctioned by law, as some of the State's legislators had advocated.

It is easy for people to talk themselves into a state of mind, whenever the abolition of the whipping post has been agitated, leading conservative citizens, who had fully convinced themselves of the efficacy of this treatment of felons and misdemeanors, have reminded the reformers that Delaware is traversed by hoboes and other wicked men whose criminal activities needed to be discouraged.

"Keep the hoboes out of Delaware!" has been the cry, and it is a senseless cry, for every State is traversed by tramps, and for the further reason that whipping, while it ought to keep them out of Delaware, does nothing of the sort.

Atty-Gen. Walcott told me he was not sure that the lashes had a deterrent effect upon the criminal. He said his sympathies had been deeply aroused while witnessing a severe flogging.

"I am satisfied," said former Atty-Gen. Ward to me, "from all my observation of the history of crime in Delaware, that the lashes have no particularly deterrent effect. If I were a legislator I certainly never would vote for a whipping act. I saw a man tied to the post, scourged with the cruel lash, and I never want to see such a sight again."

And yet, in this year of our Lord 1925, after due deliberation, the legislators of Delaware, by a vote of 31 to 1, have decided to retain the ancient whipping post "for the punishment of certain classes of crime now as in former years."

Do the members know that even cruel Rome did not use the lash to punish its offending freemen?

ORIGIN OF VAUDEVILLE

BY LEE SHIPPEY

Do you know the origin of the word "vaudeville"? I came on it in the history of French literature that I have been reading. It is interesting enough to pass along; especially as so many Americans disagree on the pronunciation of the word, the supporters of voh-de-vil, vaw-dvil and vaw-dvil running pretty nearly neck and neck.

Away back in the thirteenth century there was a Norman poet named Olivier Basselin who lived in the town of Vaux on the River Vere. Olivier was a maker and singer of light, joyful songs, the sort of chap who was most popular in the little towns on market days. He wasn't an acrobat nor a comedy duo nor a thirty-second (rate) crayon artist, and all such are slanders on his memory. He sang merry songs with enthusiasm and between stanzas—with equal enthusiasm—liberated his throat with the crier for which Norman is famous and which often gets much harder than a keg of nails.

That was all. But he sang so well and so merrily that he became a national figure, and his entertainments were known by the name of his town, Vaux de Vere. Then imitators sprang up (how suggestive that of vaudeville) and the country en-

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Of more than usual interest to local society was the announcement made yesterday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. John G. Orth of 1225 Maryland street of the engagement of their attractive young daughter, Miss Olga Orth, to Clifton B. Herd, son of the late John Herd and Mrs. Helen Herd of Pasadena. The news was told at a charmingly arranged tea with which Mrs. Orth and her daughter entertained, more than 100 guests having been bidden. The announcements were made by means of exquisite bouquets of candles in the pastel shades, which were distributed to the guests by the tiny niece of the bride-elect, Dorothy Lee, tiny cards with the names of the betrothed being attached by ribbons. The wedding will be one of the events of June.

The house was beautifully decorated with a profusion of spring flowers and ferns in the pastel shades, candles in the same tones lighting the tea table. Mrs. Orth and her daughter were assisted by Mrs. Winslow Wayne Leiger, Mrs. Irwin J. Muma, Mrs. Francis Davidson, Mrs. William Bauer, Mrs. Clarence Runkle, Mrs. George Fenimore, Miss Louise Balderman, Miss Pearl Orth and Mrs. Baruch Lee.

Miss Orth is a native daughter of Los Angeles and, after completing her school course here, traveled abroad for three years, studying music in Paris and Germany. She returned about eight months ago. Mr. Herd is one of the best-known athletes of our country, having been national clay court tennis champion, intercollegiate shot putter and all-American scholastic tennis and football star. ### DOES YOUR CHILD FUSS ABOUT HIS FOOD?

The following paper is prepared by the Massachusetts Department of Mental Diseases and published by the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, New York. It is so well written and I agree with it so thoroughly that I am going to give it to you just as they present it. Does your child fuss about his food?

I. Maybe without knowing it you have started the habit. (1) Do you fret about what he eats and whether he is getting enough? If so, very likely every meal time you make him the star actor in a little drama, and every child likes to be the center of attention. (2) Do you talk about his eating habits to other people in his presence? If so, any child would feel important and want to keep up being different. (3) Do you insist on feeding him after he is old enough to feed himself just because it is easier than to teach him? Better let him spill a little till he learns than allow him to become dependent and, hence, often fretful. (4) Is some one else in the family very particular about eating? Of course a child will imitate what older people do.

II. Maybe you have not fed him wisely. (1) Do you choose plain, nourishing, easily digested foods and cook them well? (2) Do you let your child taste everything that grown people have? A child used to having tea, coffee and highly seasoned foods or too many sweets has lost a healthy appetite. (3) Do you serve food as attractively as you can and in not too large quantities? Children hate to eat things that do not look well, and are sometimes discouraged by too much. (4) Do you feed your child regularly? A child cannot go too long without food, while eating between meals means that his little stomach is overworked.

III. Maybe this is a warning that your child's nervous system is not working in a healthy way. (1) Do you find that he sleeps poorly, is irritable, or has violent temper tantrums or fears? If so, not only his eating but other habits of his life are probably disarranged. IV. Maybe you have not realized what an effect emotion has on the taking of food. (1) Do you know that a child who is angry or fearful or worried cannot digest food properly? If, then, he refuses food at such times do not try to make him eat, but overcome the emotion first by a more healthy attitude of mind. Good cheer is a splendid appetizer. (2) Do you ever create an unpleasant scene in an effort to make a child eat? In this way you arouse emotions that make eating impossible at the time, and arouse distaste for that food ever after. (3) Do you create jealousy by giving one child what another wants? If it is not wise to give all the children the same foods, the child who is refused ought to know why, and not be allowed to feel that he is treated unfairly. (4) Do you try to show your authority by making a child eat a thing just because you say so? This only creates anger and obstinacy, which mean inability to digest food, and that have you gained? Is it not better to show him that you are reasonable and expect him to be; that you consult his preference when you can, but if a food is needed for health he must try to learn to like it? (5) Do you suggest to the child your own doubt whether he is going to eat or not? A child is quick to refuse if he feels that you expect him to, and as quick to eat what you give him when you are so afraid of your child's eating a meal that when he gives you a hint you give him something else? The child who by your attitude that you are afraid he will not eat what he is given, and that he can get what he wants if he persists, is sure to not hurt him. Leave the twenty or thirty minutes and let him take it away and give nothing the next meal. In this way he will soon learn to eat what is offered at regular times.

(Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents)

My Dear Friend: When writing to you with an offer you must remember to state, self-addressed envelope bearing name and address. The number on the envelope is the only one for which you will be sent a copy. Please do not use the name in care of this paper. Make them later with you. Please state your address in full. I have often received letters from you. Remember it is impossible to answer all the letters. I am sorry to hear that you are not well. I hope you will soon be able to write to me again. HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS
The Downy Duck
To remove the down from a duck is a real job. First pin the big feathers and the pin the smaller ones. Then pour melted wax over the duck where it is and when set, peel it off. It will come all that obstinate down.

For Hot Boats
Don't ruin your clean washboard cover by testing your iron on it. Have a folded piece of paper at the end of the board. Then test your iron on the paper. You will clean it at the same time without discoloring your cover.

To Soften Brown Sugar
When brown sugar hardens, take one huge lump, place the top of the double boiler over it and fill the bottom with water. Heat and let the sugar soften about five minutes. It will come out soft and fine.

Sending Money
Stamps are usually accepted for the fraction of a dollar. Send personal checks to your money orders are far more careful to save the remittance. You are certain the remittance has been received.

Put on Your Slippers put on your bed-room slippers as you get out of bed. Make a habit of so doing. You are insured against a collar button and you are likely to catch cold. One slipper habit in the children.

CONVICT DEFIES
STATE ATTORNEY*Prisoner Refuses to Answer Questions*Was Brought from Folsom to Testify at Fresno*End of Sensational Murder Trial in Sight

FRESNO, April 2.—Defying the authorities who attempted to compel him to testify against Albert H. Woodworth, Los Angeles taxi driver, on trial for murder of Constable George W. Boyle at Kingsburg, November 14, 1924, James H. Gregg, life term at Folsom prison, refused today to give any other than perfunctory answers to direct examination.

Woodworth is charged jointly with Gregg, James Canton, who was not expected to testify, and Purio, who was shot to death, with the murder of Boyle during a shooting affray when the yegmen were discovered in a Kingsburg garage.

Gregg's only testimony concerning Woodworth's participation in the orgy of crime which preceded the fatal shooting affray, was that the taxi driver was an unwilling accomplice of the trio of escaped convicts.

Brought from prison as a defense witness, Gregg answered questions put to him by the defense attorneys, and then bitterly defied Amst. Dist. Atty. Claude H. Fegan when he asked him to admit that he would connect either him or the defendant with the slaying of Boyle.

As the interrogation progressed Gregg became more and more defiant, and when Fegan remarked that the "witness" should be intimidated with a rope around his neck, Gregg rushed at him with his fist doubled and arm upraised to deliver a blow, but was restrained by a deputy sheriff who intervened.

Gregg was convicted of the Boyle murder and sentenced to a life term. He said that when the bandit trio hired Woodworth in Los Angeles for a trip to Kingsburg they forced Woodworth by threats and gun play to carry them in to the San Joaquin Valley and to Lodi and to witness their crimes.

Gregg and Woodworth were captured when they brought Purio to Fresno for medical treatment. Purio died and was buried.

Woodworth was placed on the stand and testified to virtually the same story as did Gregg.

The case is expected to go to the jury tomorrow morning.

FRESNO, April 2.—William John Cooper, who for four years has been City Superintendent of Schools in Fresno, was today offered the position as president of the State Teachers' College at San Jose by the State Board of Education. It was announced here today.

Cooper's term as superintendent here expires June 30, next, and it is understood that the Board of Education contemplates reappointing him at an advance over his present annual salary of $6000. Such action is expected at the board meeting next Thursday night.

Cooper indicated today that he may accept the tender of the San Jose post, where he would succeed the late Dr. E. R. Snyder. Cooper is a native Californian and was educated in the public schools of the State and the University of California. Before coming to Fresno in 1921 to succeed Jerome O. Cross as superintendent, he was City School Superintendent at Piedmont. He is now a candidate for a doctor's degree at the State University.

Will C. Wood, approached Cooper some time ago concerning the San Jose post, it became known here recently, and since that date Cooper has been in a receptive mood.

The nomination by the State Board of Education was made at a meeting today. It was stated here.

TO RESTORE OLD ADOBE
FORTRESS*Society at Santa Barbara Buys Headquarters of Old Presidio

SANTA BARBARA, April 2.—Santa Barbara's oldest building, the commandant's headquarters of the old Presidio group, was purchased from Salisbury Field today. It will be restored by the Community Arts Association. The building, which was erected in 1782, two years before the old Mission was founded, has fast been falling to ruin. Civic plans call for the eventual restoration of a large portion of the old Presidio, which is located near the center of the city.

The old adobe building has housed a Chinese laundry for many years, and was all but forgotten when the Native Sons focused public attention on it two years ago in an attempt to restore it.

Salisbury Field, the famous playwright, then purchased it from Ygnacio Flores, grandson of one of the commandants and held it until some organization was ready to take it over for restoration.

The building is constructed of masonry, was successful in recovering a musket balls from fierce fighting in the days of Spanish and Mexican rule. The old loopholes in the north side of the building still remain.

Only three other smaller buildings of the old Presidio group remain, and plans are under way to completely restore the principal corner of the square.

Van Nuys High Calls Halt on Jazzy Players

VAN NUYS, April 2.—As a slap at all jazz music, saxophone playing and the modern tendency toward ragtime pace, the Van Nuys High School authorities have asked for more sober music study within the institution. As a result all the students now will turn their hands literally to trying to play the pipe organ.

Miss Snow, the school principal, called for volunteers from the student body and there has been a liberal response.

The Van Nuys school has one of the most musical student bodies in the Southland. The institution has a fifty-piece band, under a paid leader; there are scores of boys' and girls' piano players; dozens of boys' and girls' saxophone players; violinists, trombonists and kettle drummers.

After getting much too jazzy, Miss Snow said today, "I have appealed to the student body to turn its mind to the serious business of pipe-organ playing and composition and the response has been overwhelming."

MINISTERS IN CONTEST WITH LEGION MEMBERS

SANTA BARBARA, April 2.—The Garfield reservoir, which has caused South Pasadena much trouble, by breaking and flooding a portion of the city, and since then has been the underlying cause of a recall election and a direct cause for the resignation of a City Trustee, is to be repaired at once after the completion of nearly eight months. The reservoir will be repaired at a cost of $53,175.50, and the contract for the work was today awarded to John S. E. Houk of Culver City.

The story of the "Jinx reservoir" dates back August of last year when the basin was being filled for the first time. When it was nearly full a corned gave way and 7,000,000 gallons of water ran over the city.

An investigation disclosed that the construction was faulty and a heated civic row developed, which culminated in a recall election directed by two members of the Board of City Trustees. While wrangling over the best method of repairing the reservoir, Walter A. Gillette, a Trustee, resigned from the board, declaring that the people's money was to be spent unwisely in the reconstruction.

An interesting feature of the controversy is that the original cost of the reservoir was $26,400, and the sum declared necessary to repair it has been estimated at well over $50,000.

The ministers in contest with Legion members, with women's civic organizations in the background, are attacking the American Legion and many fraternal orders in one of the most bitterly contested battles in the history of the city. The question, "Shall boxing be allowed in Santa Barbara" is the cause of contention.

The ministers assert that they will contest every move of the Legion to obtain a permit from the State commission, and so far have held up the plans of the soldiers' organization.

The ex-service men, according to a statement issued this morning by Commander Henry Ewald, are almost unanimously in favor of boxing. Both the ministers and ex-service men believe that the dispute will be settled within a week, and the Legion has called a meeting for tomorrow night to ascertain the sentiment of the post on their petition to the State commission.

The ministers assert that they will contest every move of the Legion to obtain a permit from the State commission, and so far have held up the plans of the soldiers' organization.

The ex-service men, according to a statement issued this morning by Commander Henry Ewald, are almost unanimously in favor of boxing. Both the ministers and ex-service men believe that the dispute will be settled within a week, and the Legion has called a meeting for tomorrow night to ascertain the sentiment of the post on their petition to the State commission.

Von KleinSmid Talks on Trade to Optimists
The geography and psychology of the Latin-American countries are two subjects American businessmen should ponder carefully, to be successful in doing business in South America, declared Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of California, in an address before the Optimist Club at the Biltmore yesterday.

The meeting was styled "University of Southern California Day" on the program, the chairman being Warren E. Howard, controller of the university, the principal speaker the president of the institution, and the musical features being furnished by the university's glee club.

Dr. Von KleinSmid, who has recently returned from South America, where he was the special representative of President Coolidge at the Pan-American Conference, spoke on "Our Latin-American Relations."

Suspect in Oil Rigging Theft Held at Oxnard
After a search of nearly a year, Eddie Salmon, wanted for arrested theft of oil well machinery, was arrested yesterday at Oxnard by Sheriff Clark of Ventura county, according to a report to the Sheriff's office. On April 1, 1924, a complaint issued last April charges, Salmon hauled away from a well of the B. G. T. Oil Company at Santa Fe Springs about $21,000 worth of material.

The case was assigned to Deputy Sheriff Jones and Higgins and the J. N. Pyles Detective Agency, who at last succeeded in tracing Salmon through his 1924 automobile registration. Salmon was an oil worker in the Torrance and Lomita fields at the time of the alleged theft.

TELLS OF PAMPA PARADE
Erwin A. Thomas humiliated his wife by parading through the living-room clad in pajamas and bathrobe when she was entertaining guests, Mrs. Gladys Thomas declared in a suit for divorce filed yesterday. ## FILM SUN AND STARS TO SHINE STATE MEETING PLANS DEVELOP

Arc to Provide Light at Fireman's Ball

Fireman Phillips, Annie Schaner and Louise Fazenda

THE sixth annual Fireman's Ball, which, according to bulletins from fire-fighting headquarters, will be the greatest in department history, will be held at the Ambassador Auditorium tonight.

Not only will the elite of the city's smoke-eaters and official Los Angeles be present, but the presence of scores of film celebrities is assured, for the studios, in appreciation of the gallant assistance rendered them during the last year.

Among the galaxy of stars who will mingle with the crowd will be Madge Bellamy, June Marlowe, Shirley Mason, Edmund Lowe, Francis X. Bushman and May McAvoy. Fred Solomon will be master of ceremonies and souvenirs will be given away.

Other speakers will be Dr. Miriam Van Waters, whose fame has become national; Dr. William Frederick Bide of the "Save the Redwood" League; who is also president of the School of the Pacific and has just finished a life of John Muir. Dr. Bide will be the chief speaker on the first day.

One of the sessions of the convention will be held in the grove "Big Trees" three miles from Santa Cruz, and for that occasion Jay Plowe, far-famed flutist of Los Angeles, will provide the music. State Forester J. W. Platt will probably address this session, and at that time also a bronze tablet will be placed in the grove in honor of the general federation.

Other interesting features of the convention will be a district president's forum, a lecture by a former cast of the subjects to be handled at the General Federation Council at West Baden, Ind., in June.

The address for the fine arts program will be given by Dr. James, professor of English at Mills College, who will take "Way-faring in Italy" for his subject and will embody in his talk the idea of spiritual understanding through the fine arts.

BOARD MEETING
On Monday preceding the convention will be held the final State board meeting of the year and of the administration, and that evening the members of the board will have a dinner at which the strictest privacy will prevail, and at which no outsiders will be allowed.

On Tuesday night at the opening banquet of the convention it is hoped to have, among several other distinguished guests, the Governor of the State.

The emertus dinner will be on Wednesday night, as well as the club play.

Besides a talk from Dr. Roman, internationalism will be featured in the sessions, at which the four California delegates to the recent conference on the cause and cure of war in Washington, Mrs. Aaron Schick, Mrs. J. W. Schick, Mrs. John C. Urquhart and Mrs. Seward Simons, will speak.

Iceman Called on Wife Without Ice, Suit Charges
When the iceman called at the home of Thomas E. Nikirk he didn't have any ice, but he would stay from fifteen to thirty minutes each time, Nikirk told Judge Sumner yesterday at the trial of his suit for divorce from Florence Josephine Nikirk. Judge Sumner found for the plaintiff, and the case went to the jury.

The iceman was not the only man mentioned by Nikirk. He complained also of her conduct with Leo Lashaw, George Kerr and William English. He showed Judge Sumner a letter which he wrote to Nikirk, in which he said she was "a little bit of a bitch."

The letter proposed that she sell her husband's radio to raise money for a trip to Texas.

Former Mayor of Utah Capital Dies in Glendale
Richard P. Morris, president of the Mount Nelson Marble Company, died at Glendale Sanatorium last evening from a bronchial affection. He had been ill three weeks. Mr. Morris was a former resident of Salt Lake City and had lived in Los Angeles at 4231 Burnside street since June. He was 68 years of age. He was Mayor of Salt Lake City from 1904 to 1907, and commissioner of the city from 1907 to 1911. He leaves his widow, one son, Russell P. Morris, and one daughter, Miss Marion Morris of Los Angeles, and two sons and a daughter in Salt Lake City. The body was taken to Salt Lake City for burial.

WOMAN ARRESTED AS BURGLAR SUSPECT
Lucille Germain of 536 Cedar street, Hawthorne, was arrested at her home yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Morrissey and Wheeler and taken to the County Jail on a charge of burglary. The young woman, it is asserted, broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pemberton at 529 Cedar street, Hawthorne, and stole jewelry and clothing. A part of the jewelry and clothing was recovered in the feminine suspect's room, the deputies stated.

Tentative Program Given for Federation Parley

Dr. Roman of New York Heads List of Speakers

Last Day's Session Will be in "Big Tree" Grove

Although the plans for the coming State convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs at Santa Cruz in May are still in a tentative state, some of the high lights are beginning to develop and promise an unusually interesting meeting.

The convention headquarters will be the Casa del Rey Hotel at Santa Cruz, and the Casino will be the meeting place for the first three days, with a fourth spent among the big trees of the Big Basin.

The outstanding speaker, who will provide both instruction and entertainment for the delegates, will be Dr. Frederick Roman, professor of the University of New York. Dr. Roman is the only man, not a Frenchman, who ever received a doctor's degree from the Sorbonne. He is connected with the school of education of New York University, and is coming to the Coast especially for the convention. He will speak several times during the three days' meeting, and is at present helping to build up the program around the thought of citizenship—educational problems and international relations.

Other speakers will be Dr. Miriam Van Waters, whose fame has become national; Dr. William Frederick Bide of the "Save the Redwood" League; who is also president of the School of the Pacific and has just finished a life of John Muir. Dr. Bide will be the chief speaker on the first day.

WOMAN'S RIGHT TO TALK UPHELD
Judge Bows to Inevitable, and Admits That in His Opinion It is Beyond the Power of Any Court to Deny Speech to Fair Sex

The immortal right of a woman to talk or rather the admitted impossibility of stopping a woman from talking received legal recognition yesterday at the hands of Judge Gates of the Superior Court. The jurist, bowing to the inevitable, dismissed the motion for injunction brought by Robert B. Stacy-Judd, architect, to have his wife, Anna Veronica Stacy-Judd, restrained from talking about him.

The ticklish question was opened with a general summing up of the case by John W. Kemp, attorney for Mrs. Stacy-Judd, who has been sued for divorce by her husband.

"This is a proceeding for an injunction to restrain a woman from talking," he began. "I do not think it is a practical proceeding."

The statement brought a gale of laughter from spectators, the divorce and alimony row, court attacks and a broad grin from Judge Gates himself.

Mrs. Stacy-Judd took the stand and was frigidly calm and denied talking about her husband.

She had merely met a Mrs. Chalmers, a friend of her husband's office and the latter had taken advantage of the accidental meeting to upbraid her, Mrs. Stacy-Judd said.

Mrs. Chalmers' name next, representing the architect, in icy tones for calling her to the stand, "That person," she said, referring to the wife, "has told a ridiculous story. I was in the office to consult Mr. Stacy-Judd in regard to a house he is building for myself and my husband. Mrs. Stacy-Judd met me and insulted me."

Judge Gates, after hearing the evidence, candidly admitted that he thought no court possessed sufficient power to stop a woman from talking.

"However uncertain I am as to the court's power, to restrain a lady from talking," he concluded, "there is no uncertainty of this court's power in the matter of granting or withholding alimony. With this fact in mind let both parties be admonished they must not make derogatory remarks about each other."

REV. CARL PATTON TO LEAD EASTER WORSHIP
Dr. Carl Patton, pastor of the First Congregational Church, yesterday accepted an invitation extended by the Community Development Association and the Philharmonic Orchestra Association to deliver the sermon at the Easter sunrise service in the Coliseum on Sunday morning, the 12th inst. Dr. Patton will deliver a short sermon, as most of the program will be music by the Philharmonic Orchestra. Sacred hymns will be interspersed with appropriate symphonic music. The singing will be led by Harry Barnhart, community singing leader from New York and Chicago. The service will begin with a trumpet call at 5:26 a.m.

AT THE MONTMARTRE
Prof. Chico De Verdi and his Vienna trio of strings, for several seasons a musical attraction at the famous Vienna College of Music and only recently here from Paris, will be the musical attraction for the Easter Sunday evening. The regular Montmartre Orchestra under Mel Pedesky's direction will be on hand six days out of the week, but on Sunday the symphony concerts will be featured.

THE DARK ANGEL
The "Dark Angel" will not be filmed for some weeks, as George Fitzmaurice, the director, is still in Europe, and in the meantime the fair star will devote her time to learning the English language. Ronald Colman will be featured with her in the picture.

Vilma Banky's First Word is Stammered Praise for "The Beautiful Air"

"I speak no English—but, oh, these beautiful air of Angeles!" This stammered phrase of Vilma Banky, the Hungarian actress, on her arrival in the city yesterday was accompanied by the inhaling of huge quantities of "these beautiful air" of the depot yard with its liberal commixture of train smoke.

Miss Banky, who has been acclaimed "Europe's Mary Pickford," and who bears a resemblance to her, has arrived from Budapest to play featured roles in Samuel Goldwyn productions, the first of which is to be "The Dark Angel," soon to be filmed. She has been starring in pictures in Germany for three years.

Speaking for the most part through an interpreter, Miss Banky tried desperately to express her emotions and opinions of Los Angeles, the motion pictures and the all-important subject of dieting.

Dieting, according to her, is not essential to Europeans. "Over there they like us nice an' plump, but here I must be thin like my little finger!" This last was said with no great pleasure, for when she signed a long-term contract with Samuel Goldwyn the provision that she diet of fifteen pounds was prominent in the specifications.

Importantly forsaking her interpreter and groping alone for a strange language, Miss Banky said emphatically: "Do not call me a little finger!" I am just Vilma Banky of Budapest. An! It is Mees Banky. I am not married."

Ranking herself among the unusual, Vilma Banky then expressed herself on the subject of American life in perfect English. "I am just Vilma Banky of Budapest. An! It is Mees Banky. I am not married."

Centenarian is Singer at Party Given in His Honor; Adds Long Life Advice

Trying to do good for others, thinking right and living right form the recipe for a ripe old age given out by Jonathan Begg, who celebrated his 101st birthday anniversary at a party given at the Volunteers of America Home at Sunland last night.

The party was under the auspices of the Caledonian Society of Los Angeles. Mr. Begg was born in Glencairn, Highland Valley, Scotland, April 2, 1824. You can get the idea of what he has lived 101 years of age today if you stop to realize that Mr. Begg was 27 years of age when the Civil War broke out. He has been in the United States sixty-four years. He celebrated his 101st birthday anniversary at the party.

The hall at the Volunteers home was crowded with friends of Mr. Begg. Right and wrong, his kilties and pretty little lassies in costume. Among those who entertained were: Robert Dunbar, formerly of the Caledonian Society who gave imitations of the famous Scotch comedian; Mrs. Margaret Pitt, Mrs. David Pitt, Mrs. Bessie Morgan, Jessie Smith, Cecilia Davidson, Maud Nichol and Elsie Tuft. James George and Frank Knight played the bagpipes.

Just to show that he is still as good as the best of them, Mr. Begg arose in his old glory, strutting about with a crook stick in his fist and sang "A Wee Scotch N' Doris."

During his active life, Mr. Begg was an inventor but is now reported to be engaged in writing some of his observations upon life.

JUDGE FINDS KIDDIES ARE MISTREATED

Woman to be Sentenced Today for Malnutrition of Two Children

After a session at the General Hospital, where doctors testified that one of two children whom she is charged with mistreating is suffering from malnutrition, Mrs. Ada Tufts, 2488 Hauser Boulevard, yesterday found guilty by Police Judge Bugg of charges of mistreating Fred and George Stribling, the two children of her family. Mrs. Tufts was sentenced today at 10 a. m. Judge Bugg told raised her bail from $250 to $500, which Mr. Tufts furnished.

The case against Mrs. Tufts resulted from a complaint by Mrs. Inez Harlan, 2402 Hauser Boulevard, a neighbor, who recited several asserted acts of mistreatment and declared the children were underfed. The boys had been placed with Mrs. Tufts by their father after their mother's death, and he paid $60 a month for their support.

Yesterday, the third day of the trial, when the case was called on, the boys had gained 10 pounds. A bench warrant was issued, but she appeared in a short time, explaining she was delayed in a traffic jam.

Court adjourned to the hospital in the afternoon. Dr. W. A. Kriesinger, inpector of the hospital, declared Fred Stribling was taken to the hospital two weeks ago suffering from malnutrition. Since he has been in the hospital, he said, he had gained three pounds in weight.

BEGGARS CELEBRATE
Centenarian is Singer at Party Given in His Honor; Adds Long Life Advice

Trying to do good for others, thinking right and living right, are the recipe for a ripe old age given out by Jonathan Begg, who celebrated his 101st birthday anniversary at a party given at the Volunteers of America, Home at Sunland last night.

The party was under the auspices of the Caladonian Society of Los Angeles. Mr. Begg was born in Glencleair, Highland Valley, Scotland, April 2 to 1851. You can get an idea of what it means to be 101 years of age today if you stop to realize that Mr. Begg was 27 years of age when the Civil War broke out. He has been in the United States sixty-four years. He celebrated his 100th birthday anniversary at Pasadena last year.

The hall at the Volunteers' home was crowded with friends of Mr. Begg. Highlanders in their kilts and pretty little lassies in costume. Among those who entertained were: Robert Dunlap, formerly with Harry Lauder, who gave imitations of the famous Scotch comedian; Billie Friends, Tait, Mrs. Maud McGillivray, Mrs. Bessie Morgan, Jessie Smille, Cecelia Davidson, Maud Nichol and Edith M. Begg. Billie Friends and Frank Knight played the barpipes.

Just to show that he is still as spry as a young man, Mr. Begg arose in all his glory, strutted around with a crooked stick in his fist and sang "A Wee Deoch Nì."

During his active life, Mr. Begg was an inventor but is now retired. He has many friends and some of his observations upon life.

Fleet Now Able to Dispense With Carrier Craft

Land Flyers' Running Gears
Replaced by Pontoons

Three squadrons of scouting and fighting planes filled the air over the fleet yesterday, marking realization of one of the greatest efforts of the Navy Air Service—the operation of fighting planes from the decks of battleships. Squadron VP-1, composed of thirteen of the Navy's new TS type single-seaters, joined the battleship divisions yesterday and were assigned to the various dreadnaughts, together with the twenty-four UO-type scouting planes of Squadrons VO-1 and VO-2.

Fleet aviation officers were jubilant last night following the success of the first tests given the tiny land fighters as seaplanes—their landing gear having been replaced by twin pontoons. Maneuvering ability of the new ships, which have a climbing speed of 120 knots per hour, was not decreased in the slightest by addition of pontoons, it was said.

Thirty-six planes will be operated from the battleships during the coming cruise, it was announced by Lieutenant-Commander Robert D. Kirkpatrick, battle fleet aviation officer, enabling the fleet to maintain a complete air force independent of aircraft carriers. Yesterday's development, Commander

NEW ARREST IN SORRENTO CASE LIKELY

Joe Santennielli May be Sought in Federal Plan to Fix Club Ownership

A Federal warrant for the arrest of Joe Santennielli probably will be issued today in connection with the government's investigation of the "Sorrento Club," 1348 West Sixth street, according to U. S. Atty. McNabb. Such proceeding was suggested last Tuesday by United States Commissioner Turney when he held Bert Bursterna, better known as "Bert the Barber," for trial on a charge of maintaining a nuisance in violation of the Volstead Act.

It is the purpose of the government, Attorney McNabb indicated, to ascertain the ownership of the Sorrento Club, in which place Milton "Farmer" Page recently shot and killed A. Joseph. Bursterna is held on evidence that intoxicating liquor was sold to Federal prohibition agents at the Sorrento Club bar operated by Bursterna. Evidence introduced before Commissioner Turney included a statement by Santennielli that he was owner of the Sorrento Club, and paid rent on it.

Attorney McNabb said he did not know whether it will be necessary to subpoena William Gibbs McAdoo as a witness in the case. In his statement, submitted at the District Attorney's office in connection with the Page-Joseph incident, Santennielli said he was merely a stockholder in a corporation which bought the property and had to take over the lease held by Santennielli.
